—WPB CHIEF SAYS JOB DONE—

Nelson Resigns

...Krug Named Successor

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 — (AP)—President Roosevelt today accepted the resignation of Donald M. Nelson as chairman of the war production board and said he was counting on Nelson remaining in the government "in a high post of major importance."

The president named Julius A. Krug Nelson's successor, but did not immediately disclose the post he had in mind for Nelson. Krug has been serving as acting WPB chairman.

White house Secretary Stephen Early said the president will be ready in the near future to announce Nelson's assignment.

"He is not ready to announce this today," Early added.

Effective Immediately.

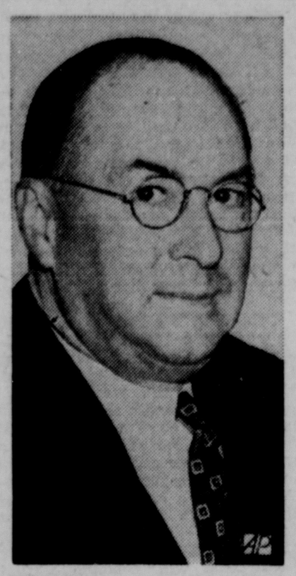

Reading from an exchange of correspondence, Early told reporters Nelson had sent in his letter of resignation yesterday to take effect immediately.

Nelson said that he and Major General Patrick Hurley had carried out the first phase of the work assigned to them by the president in China, and that he had returned to make certain essential arrangements for completing his part of the mission.

The main purpose of his letter, Nelson said, was to tender his resignation. He added he had contemplated this action since war production had successfully met its crucial task in the invasion of Europe.

He had delayed resigning, Nelson said only until he could chart the course of WPB in the reconversion program.

Nelson said that today the policies, plans and methods of war production are well established, and that during his absence Krug "administered the board very successfully" and is quite capable of completing the development of plans for reconversion.

—LEGISLATIVE HEARING—

'Minimum' Cost For Mid-State

. . . PREDICTED BY GRIMMINGER

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Sept. 30—(AP)—Public hearings of the legislature's special water resources committee concluded today as supporters of the proposed Mid-State project in Hall, Merrick and Buffalo counties completed their case for surface irrigation to supplement pump irrigation and Tri-County officials closed their plea to the committee for legislation permitting diversion of Platte river water south of the watershed.

Although the public hearing, of which this was the fourth, was closed, committee Chairman Senator C. Petrus Peterson, Lincoln, said briefs would be received any time within the next two weeks.

Johnson On Rebuttal

Mayor Harry Grimminger of Grand Island and City Engineer R. F. Nosky of North Platte presented the Mid-State case today with Tri-County General Manager George E. Johnson offering the rebuttal.

Grimminger said papers of organization of Mid-State under the public power and irrigation district clauses would be filed in Lincoln next week and declared the project had practically 100 per cent support in the three county area.

He asserted the project would be built at a minimum cost for the benefits gained and added that as the surface water would aid in recharging pumps and sponsors of the project were considering some legislation whereby a pump irrigator in the area who did not purchase ditch water would be called upon to pay "some reasonable charge" for the benefit gained.

Ditch Water.

Grimminger conceded that some of those who have pumps installed would have to start and continue to use pumps alone but expressed confidence that eventually a great majority would be using ditch water if mid-State is cnostructed.

The committee had sought complete cost estimates on Mid-State but due to the illness of Adolph Meyer, Minneapolis, chief engineer for the proposed project, these were not available today.

Meyer, in a prepared outline, presented by Nosky, promised these figures as soon as possible.

Nosky, however, estimated the cost at less than $15,000,000, a figure which Johnson declared too low. Johnson set $20,000,000 as the figure exclusive of laterals which he estimated at $50 per acre.

The prepared report of Meyer

Association Of Big Three Will Endure Long Time--Moscow

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—(AP)—A Moscow broadcast today quoted the newspaper Izvestia as saying in a review of a newly-published collection of "wartime soviet foreign policy documents" that the volume showed clearly the soviet government regards the Anglo-Soviet-American "association" as one that will "endure for a long time to come."

"Documents in this volume," Izvestia was quoted as saying, "make it clear that the soviet government does not regard the Anglo-Soviet-American coalition as a temporary association, but as one rooted in a community of fundamental interest between the peoples of the U. S. S. R., the United States and Great Britain, and in fact of all peace-living people.

R. E. CAMPBELLS ESCAPE INJURY IN TRAIN WRECK

Aboard the Chicago and North Western train wrecked outside of Missouri Valley, Iowa Tuesday night were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Campbell, 2600 Woodscrest, passengers in the only car which was not overturned from the track.

"It was truly a frightful experience," Mrs. Campbell said, "and although there were no badly injured persons in our car, we realized what other passengers on the train were going through. There was naturally a great deal of confusion, but I saw no wild excitement or hysteria.

"People seem to be able to meet a crisis in a fearful episode like a train wreck," she continued.

The able-bodied people were taken from the scene of the wreck, approximately a mile from Missouri Valley, to the town while nurses and doctors arrived to treat the more seriously wounded, Mrs. Campbell said.

"The reaction doesn't set in right away," she concluded, "but it's a horrible and horrifying experience."

Minnesotan's Life Saved When Knocked Unconscious In Wreck

Being knocked unconscious in the Chicago & North Western railroad wreck at Missouri Valley, Ia., Thursday saved the life of Preston T. Baker, 73, of Worthington, Minn., his son-in-law Dr. Maurice J. Ayres, in Lincoln Saturday, told his uncle Harry Ayres, Supreme court bailiff.

Dr. Ayres was accompanying his father-in-law, Mr. Baker, to Omaha Methodist hospital where the elder Baker's son, Dr. Charles P. Baker, is pathologist.

They both escaped without serious injury though the front end of the steel car in which they were occupying the fifth row of seats was sheared off. Mr. Baker, a sufferer from heart disease, was knocked unconscious, thereby, saving him from the fatal shock the scenes following the clash would have caused, his physicians assert. He was rushed to Omaha before recovering consciousness.

Dr. Ayres is state health officer in Laclede county, Missouri. His home is at Lebanon. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, school of medicine.

Norman E. Shaffer Of Hooper Is Dead; Former Legislator

HOOPER, Neb., Sept. 30—(AP)—Norman E. Shaffer, 59, cashier of the First National bank here since 1918 and former state legislator from Dodge county, died yesterday at his home.

Shaffer was a member of Nebraska Consistory No. 1, Scottish Rite, at Omaha, a prominent figure in state banking circles and a legislator from 1916 to 1918.

Survivors are: his widow, Nettie; a daughter, Mrs. Fred Kolterman, Wahoo; two sons, Donald, Hooper, and Capt. Cornelius, serving with the armed forces in Holland; six brothers, Harvey, North Bend; William, Lincoln; John and Clark, Hooper; Jay, York, and Stanley, Compton, Calif; three sisters, Mary and Rose Shaffer, Compton, and May, Omaha, and eight grandchildren.

Entire Crew Bails Out of Burning Ship

WINNER, S. D., Sept. 30—(AP)—An army heavy bomber crashed near here late Thursday afternoon after its entire crew reportedly bailed out of the burning plane.

At the Rosebud hospital Friday, a member of the staff said that a crew member whose leg was broken, was taken to a Valentine, Neb., hospital. The hospital said it was under the impression the plane was from the Alliance, Neb., army air base, but Alliance military officials said no plane from there was missing.

Gophers Take Early Lead Over Huskers

AT MINNEAPOLIS—

Minnesota	13

MEMORIAL STADIUM, Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 30—Minnesota's Golden Gophers were top heavy favorites to defeat Nebraska's Cornhuskers in the 26th meeting between the rival elevens here Saturday afternoon. It was an ideal day for football, although cloudy and threatening an hour before game time.

The Huskers were in top shape with one exception, guard Bill Berquist, who suffered a leg injury during the week, sitting the game out in the stands. The crowd was small, compared to pre-war days, an early press box estimate being between 20,000 and 25,000.

Collopy Starts at Fullback.

Coach Lewandowski announced that he would stick to his guns in nominating Junior Collopy to start at fullback although Buzz Hollins was expected to see action.

Guard Frank Hazard, game captain for the Huskers, was the only member of Nebraska's starting eleven, who was on hand for the opening kickoff here last year.

Minnesota had a slight weight advantage over the Huskers. There was a light wind blowing across field at kickoff time. The starting line ups:

Nebraska	Pos.	Minnesota
Koenig	le	Juhl
Kops	it	Reinhardt
Kasdan	lg	Jensen
Doyle	c	Lossie (gc)
Hazard (gc)	rg	Day
Pollat	rt	Juster
Dedrick	re	Wainright
Kessler	qb	Edwards
Betz	lh	Williams
Knight	rh	Braun
Collopy	fb	Cates

Officials: Referee, Dwight Ream, Washburn; umpire, W. D. Knight, Dartmouth; linesman, Jack North, Highland Park; field judge, Parke Carroll, Kansas City U.

FIRST QUARTER.

Game Captain Lossie of Minnesota won the toss and elected to defend the south goal.

Edwards kicked off 55 yards to Betz who returned 31 yards to the Nebraska 36-yard line.

NEBRASKA: Betz picked up two over his own left tackle. Betz' pass was intercepted by Williams, who was dropped on the Gopher 47.

MINNESOTA: Williams went over left tackle for five. Williams failed to gain at Hazard's guard. Cates plunged for a first down on the Nebraska 39. He went over the Husker right tackle. Cates slipped through the middle for nine yards. He was brought down by Knight. Williams cut over his own right guard for a first down on the Nebraska 25. Edwards, on a quarterback sneak, picked up four yards through the middle. Williams slashed over his right tackle for two more. Cates went over the Nebraska left guard for three more. Sutton replaced Cates in the Gopher backfield. Ball on the Nebraska 16. Williams went inside right guard for a first down on the Husker 10. Braun swung around the Nebraska right end for a touchdown.

Score: Minnesota 6, Nebraska 0.

There was six minutes left in the quarter.

Williams' kick from placement was wide.

Score: Minnesota 6, Nebraska 0.

Edwards kicked off 58 yards to Betz, who returned 24 yards where he fumbled and Wainright recovered for Minnesota on the Nebraska 27.

MINNESOTA: Braun swung over the Husker right tackle for six. Kispert replaced Edwards and Lundquist went in for Braun in the Gopher backfield. Lundquist broke over his own left tackle for a first down on the Nebraska 12. Sutton found a hole at left guard and picked up six yards. Sutton went over standing from the six.

Score: Minnesota 12, Nebraska 0.

Lorenz replaced Pollat at right tackle for Nebraska. Williams' conversion was good.

Score: Minnesota 13, Nebraska 0.

Four minutes 44 seconds left in the quarter. Edwards, back in for the kickoff, booted to Knight who returned to the Nebraska 20. Graiziger went in at guard for Minnesota.

NEBRASKA: Knight's long punt rolled dead on the Gopher 33.

MINNESOTA: Lundquist swung around Nebraska's right end for 12 yards, but there was a penalty on the play and the Gophers were set back 5 yards for backfield in motion. Edwards made 4 yards through the middle. Lundquist reeled through the same spot on a quick opening play for a first down on the Minnesota 44. Van Dusen and Aldworth went in the Minnesota line. Sutton fumbled and Kops recovered for Nebraska on the Minnesota 42.

NEBRASKA: Kessler lost a yard at his right tackle. Collopy was hurt and was replaced by Hollins. Van Dusen was through fast to spill Knight for a two yard loss as the quarter ended.

Score: Minnesota 13, Nebraska 0.

Cold Wave Moves East

CHICAGO, Sept. 30—(AP)—The first snow of the season fell in the western half of the nation today, the weather bureau reporting below freezing temperatures and snow in the central section of Montana.

Snow was reported in Great Falls, Livingston and Havre, and, the weather bureau said, the cold weather was moving southward into Wyoming and eastward into the Dakotas. It was expected to swing down over Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin by tonight and snow was predicted for the Dakotas and extreme northern Minnesota by tonight.

Max Long Killed; Former Northeast Basketball Star

A telegram from the war department Friday noon notified Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Long, 6411 Ballard avenue, that their 19-year-old son, Pvt. Max Long, was killed in action September 15 in England. He was stationed there with an anti-aircraft battalion.

MAX LONG

Max was home on furlough in April and went overseas in July.

He was a member of the first graduating class of Northeast high school in 1942, and was well known among his classmates as an able student and basketball player. It was Max's "eye for the basket" that sparked the Rockets to the finals in the state high school tournament that year.

Pvt. Long was a member of the Christian church.

Surviving besides his parents is one brother, Thomas jr., in the service in San Diego, Calif.

Wilkinson Denied Rehearing In Contest For Council Seat

Supreme court Saturday overruled the motion of Rees Wilkinson for rehearing of the case in which J. Lloyd McMaster obtained seat in the Lincoln city council. Wilkinson said he was not ready to announce what his future course would be. Mandate from the high court has been sent to the Lancaster county District court, George H. Turner, clery of the hibh court, said Saturday.

Honolulu Has Air Raid Alarm; Friendly Planes

HONOLULU, Sept. 30—(INS)—Residents of Honolulu tumbled out of bed early today as the air raid sirens sounded throughout the city at 2:15 a. m. (HWT), due to "unidentified planes detected off the island."

The all-clear was sounded at 3:05 a. m. when the planes "proved to be friendly."

The alert surprised Honolulans who had not heard the moans of the sirens for many months. Recently the absolute blackout which had been in effect in the islands since Dec. 7, 1941, had been lifted.

Heavy Frost Forecast For Lincoln Sunday

The weather bureau Saturday forecast a heavy to killing frost will hit Lincoln Sunday night with the highest temperature Sunday near 48 degrees.

Poultry and livestock raisers in the western part of the state were warned of rain, high winds and freezing temperatures Saturday night.

Much colder weather is forecast for the central and west Saturday night.

Cooper Testifies In Own Defense

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 30—(AP) — Jackie Cooper, former movie star and now a navy V-12 student at Notre Dame, was summoned back to juvenile court today to complete his testimony relating to an all-night hotel party last summer attended by three 'teen-aged girls.

The 22-year-old Cooper, who with three others are charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency stemming from the July 22 party, had not completed his testimony when court recessed yesterday.

Mrs. Walter Green Dies In Hospital

POLK, Neb., Sept. 30—(AP)—Mrs. Walter Green, 55, widely known Polk woman, died in an Omaha hospital late yesterday. Mrs. Green frequently served as a judge in 4-H and women's divisions of Nebraska county fairs.

Survivors include her husband and two sons. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Mengel Named Fire Marshal; Sanders Sheriff

With Van L. Taylor leaving his present post as state fire marshal to join the U. S. Veterans administration, two shifts in department personnel to become effective Sunday, were announced by Governor Griswold.

Lloyd D. Mengel, state sheriff since 1941, will become fire marshal, and Capt. Carl J. Sanders will combine Mengel's present duties as state sheriff with his own as head of the highway patrol.

The governor said the change places Sanders in charge of all state law enforcement activities.

Mengel and Sanders will continue at their present salaries, which are $300. and $250 per month, respectively, the governor said. Taylor's salary as fire marshal has been $250 per month.

Mengel is a former Saunders county sheriff and former president of the State Sheriffs' association. Sanders was a member of the original Nebraska safety patrol. He was graduated recently from the FBI school for police officers at Washington, D.C.

Taylor, a veteran of World War I, will be liaison man between the veterans administration and the state division of unemployment insurance, which under the G. I. bill is charged with the issuance of unemployment benefits to returning veterans of the present war.

Denied Rehearing

The Nebraska Supreme court Saturday overruled a motion for rehearing in the case of Dale L. Cramer, young Orleans, Neb., farmer under life sentence in connection with the poison death in 1943 of his month-old daughter, Janice Mae.

Siegfried Line Cut, Vosges Bars Opened

LONDON, Sept. 30—(AP)—American and French troops advancing up to three miles struck today into the first two Vosges mountain passes guarding the Rhine, but all along the western front the allies battled desperate German resistance and chill rains, and settled into the nearest thing to positional warfare since Normandy.

The Germans lost 113 tanks—almost the equivalent of an armored division—in two days of counter-attacks on the Third army front, and threw artillery shells and rockets into vain efforts to halt the allied pushes while they strengthened their own defenses.

Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's French and American battle team fought up the slipper slopes into the entrances to two Vosges passes in the foothills northeast of Epinal and Lure. Snow powdered the hilltops ahead.

Four miles east of Remiremont, 50 miles south of Nancy, American patrols pushed through a forest in the St. Ame Sector.

Farther north the American First army attacked against Hurtgen deep in the Siegfried barrier to Cologne, and tore through eight fortifications of the nazi pillbox line at Prum on the way toward Coblenz.

Fighting In Forest.

In Holland British infantry and parachute troops of two American divisions stopped German counter-attacks against the vital Waal bridge at Nijmegen. The fighting grew fiercer in the sharp allied wedge across the German border into the Reichswald forest.

Canadian army troops northeast of Antwerp hit wesward against sizeable German pockets above that port, and Polish soldiers deepened their bridgehead across the Antwerp canal west of Turnhout, captured Merxplas in a two-mile advance.

The battle for Calais resumed at noon, after a 24-hour truce arranged for evacuation of some 20,000 civilians. Warplanes hovering overhead swooped down at expiration of the deadline, and by late afternoon German prisoners by the hundreds were streaming back into allied prison cages. The siege of the port appeared nearing an end.

German troops who pushed to the south bank of the Dutch Rhine opposite Arnhem were

Head Polish Army Ousted In Move To Placate Russians

LONDON, Sept. 30 — (AP) — General Kazimierz Sosnkowski was ousted today as commander-in-chief of Poland's armed forces in a move to placate Russia and pave the way for resumption of friendly Polish-soviet relations.

Yielding finally to the persuasion of peasant-born Polish premier Stanislow Mikolajcyk and the preasure of the British government President Wladyslaw Rackiewicz signed the decree dismissing his long-time friend as Poland's military leader.

The country's military leadership was transferred to the hero of the Warsaw uprising and commander of Poland's underground army, Gemtadeusz (Bor) Komorowski—until a few days ago known only as "General Bor."

DR. J. C. OLSON.

Dr. Olson New Historical Secretary

. . . Officers Renamed By State Society

Nebraska State Historical society re-elected directors whose terms are expiring, at a morning session in unicameral hall naming Gould Dietz of Omaha in place of H. M. Eaton, who died during the year. The directors then re-elected present officers, naming A. B. Wood of Gering, second vice-president in place of Mr. Eaton.

Enlargement of the executive board by three members was authorized by adoption of an amendment to the constitution which will be effective in 90 days.

The roster of officers is: President, James E. Lawrence, Lincoln; first vice-president, A. T. Hill, Hastings; second vice-president, A. B. Wood, Gering; treasurer, Nathan Gold, Lincoln; Dr. James L. Sellers, Lincoln, acting secretary.

President Lawrence announced agreement of Dr. James C. Olson, author of the life of J. Sterling Morton and now a lieutenant in the army air corps, to accept the secretaryship vacant since the death of Dr. Addison E. Sheldon.

Dr. Olson is a graduate of Morningside college, Sioux City and holds a master's and doctor's degree in history from the University of Nebraska. For three years, he held the Morton fellowship in history at Nebraska university.

Asking $47,280 Budget.

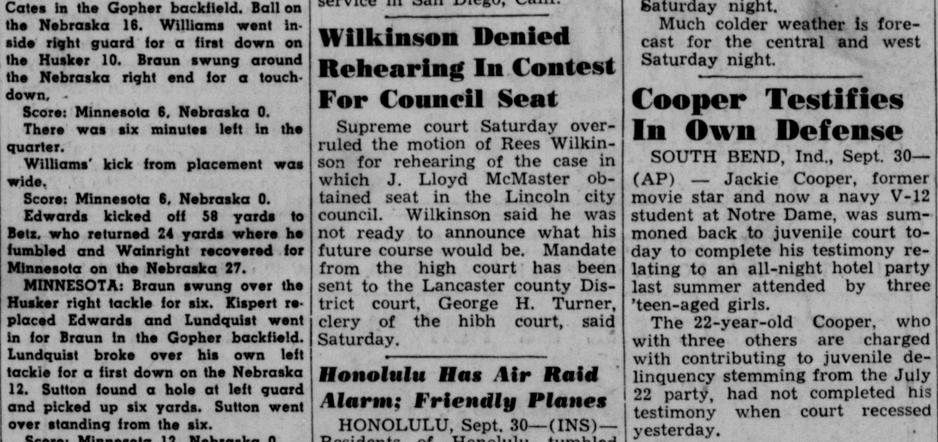

The proposal was made that cash funds received by the society should be by law turned into the state treasury and expended as other state funds. The society derives its support from the state, last biennium's budget being $38,000. Request for $47,280 is being made for the year to July 1, 1947.

President Lawrence stressed the need for young men and women to become more interested in the society's activities. He urged greater attention to increasing the membership roster. The 90th anniversary of the formation of Nebraska territorial government is approaching, Mr. Lawrence noted. The period presents opportunity for rare and valuable historic

Pincers On Hitler Are Tightened

MOSCOW, Sept. 30 — (AP) — Russia opened up today with a strong propaganda campaign urging Hungary to surrender as red army troops tightened a pincers offensive against Hitler's last big Balkan vassal state.

Leaflets dropped over the Hungarian lines encouraged the enemy troops to capitulate. The leaflets declared the Romanians were well received when they threw down their arms. Broadcasts informed the Hungarian people it was not too late to desert Hitler and save themselves.

The Russian offensive against Hungary has cracked a 90-mile stretch of frontier fortifications along the Czech-Polish border defending the Ruthenian highlands, and is sweeping west through northern Translyvania.

Gen. Ivan Petrov's combined Russian-Czechslovak forces, driving a wedge into every important Ruthenian pass, extended their grip on pre-war Czechoslovakia's frontier to 160 miles.

Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky scored a major success in the eastern Carpathians by capturing the Transylvanian city of Targu-Mures and crossing the Mures river line at a point within 50 miles east of Cluj, the Hungarian-annexed Transylvanian capital.

Operations of Malinovsky's forces on the Hungarian plain from western Romania were not mentioned officially here.

CASE OF MISSING JEWEL TRUNK IS AGAIN IN COURT

A brief filed in Supreme court by attorneys for Shiman Brothers & Co., whose salesman lost a jewelry filled trunk while checking out from the Paxton hotel in Omaha, July 13, 1939, contends that District Judge J. M. Fitzgerald of Douglas county did not follow the Supreme court's instructions in a decision after the first trial and appeal of the case. On second trial, a jury found for the hotel company. The company's lawyers assert that instructions to submit the matter of comparative negligence to the jury were not followed. Market value of the jewelry was alleged to be $45,965. The trunk had been given to a hotel porter to load out to be sent to Union station. It was stolen from the hotel dock and later found opened with contents missing, under a city viaduct. The National Hotel company, operating the Paxton, is appellee in the case.

Sgt. B. R. Shea Is Given Silver Star For Aiding Wounded

S/Sgt. Bartholomew R. (Bob) Shea, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Shea, 826 Garfield street, has received a military citation and been awarded the silver star medal, somewhere in France, according to word received by his parents from the war department.

BOB SHEA

Attached to the medical detachment headquarters company VII corps, Sgt. Shea entered the service with the Nebraska national guard in 1940 and was sent overseas in October, 1943. He was stationed in England until D-day at which time he was transferred to the invasion forces.

The citation reads in part:

"On June 22, 1944, an ammunition depot was strafed by enemy planes igniting several trucks loaded with ammunition and several piles of ammunition. Upon learning that a wounded man was in the danger area, Sgt. Shea volunteered to go to him. And with utter disregard for his own personal safety, crawled several hundred yards exposed to exploding ammunition to where the wounded man was lying. He administered first aid and then proceeded to administer to other wounded soldiers in the area."

Sgt. Shea is a graduate of Denton high school and was a student at the University of Nebraska when he entered the service. His sister Mrs. W. B. McCabe, whose husband Sgt. William B. McCabe is also overseas, is making her home with her parents for the duration.

Lt. Emerson Jones Is German Prisoner

Lt. Emerson Jones, jr., 20, who was previously reported missing in action over Germany on Aug. 15, is a prisoner of the German government according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Jones, 2528 C street, from the international Red Cross, late Friday afternoon.

LT. JONES

A navigator on a B-17 Flying Fortress, Lieut. Jones' parents received word of his being missing on Aug. 25 and the last letter from him was received on Aug. 23.

He entered the service in February of 1943 when the enlisted reserve corps at the University of Nebraska was activated. While at the university he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. Lieutenant Jones received his commission from Hondo army air field, Tex., in April of this year and was sent overseas to England in July. He was on his eleventh mission when reported missing in action.

—WAR IN PACIFIC—

3 More Islands Grabbed

. . . IN PALAU GROUP BY YANKS

(By the Associated Press.)

Three new Palau islets were in American hands today after swiftly exploited landings designed to hasten the use of that western aerial dagger aimed at the Philippines.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced yesterday (Friday) that the First U. S. marines had pushed northward from embattled Peleliu to secure nearby Ngesebus islet and its 4,800 foot fighter strip, Kongauru and a third unnamed sand dab.

This brought to nine the American-held islands in the southern Palaus, where the Japanese death toll has risen to 9,772.

Flee Manila.

Tokyo radio, meanwhile, reported that "many residents" had begun to leave Manila, as a result of recent carrier plane raids, and a "committee on evacuation" is giving "every possible aid."

Japanese guns, however, drew closer to major American air bases in China, and observers reported that Chungking was in one of its gloomiest moods with free predictions that the continental campaign had lengthened the war by months. Nipponese columns were only 35 miles from Kweilin, key provincial capital of Kwangsi province.

Nimitz reported the marines landed Wednesday on the three Palau islets, under naval and aerial bombardment. Light resistance on Ngesebus was overcome quickly. Scattered opposition on Kongauru was subdued by Thursday.

Kill 9,772 Japs

The move pushed Japanese artillery beyond range of the American-held Peleliu airstrip, now being prepared for land-based bomber attacks against the Philippines, 515 miles westward.

The new Japanese death toll was 8,717 on Peleliu, where bypassed pockets still resisted, and 1,055 on nearby Angaur, through Sept. 28.

Aerial warfare against Japanese shipping continued. Southwest Pacific planes sank or damaged another 17 in the southern Philippines and its approaches. The China-based 14th air force added a 15,000-ton whaler in Formosa strait.

Mexico Will Pay 24 Million To 5 U. S. Oil Concerns

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 30 — (INS)—A settlement involving payment of approximately $24,000,000 to United States oil companies for the expropriation of their property by Mexico was completed today after the Mexican senate ratified the agreement.

Five companies, the largest of them the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, will share in the payments to be made over a period of five years for the properties seized in 1938. The first installment of one-third of the total sum was made last year and the difference, carrying interest of three per cent since 1938, will be paid off in five annual installments.

Parent-Teacher Week Proclaimed

Governor Griswold has designated the week of October 1-8 as Parent-Teacher week in Nebraska, the twelfth such designation to be made in the association's history. The state executive urges all citizens to give of their time and effort to cooperate with the P. T. A. and its objectives.

Parade Planned for Seahawk Game

Final plans for the Second Army Air Forces vs. Iowa Seahawks football game, which is to be played in Lincoln Oct. 7, were discussed Friday noon at the chamber of commerce. Those present at the meeting were representatives of the public relations headquarters of the Second air force in Colorado Springs, and the Lincoln army air field, and members of the junior chamber of commerce football committee.

Lt. Milton Yelsky of Colorado Springs said that the game on Oct. 7 would be the sixth of thirteen to be played by the team composed of representatives of all the forty Second air force bases in fourteen states. He added that they are for the entertainment of men stationed at the various Second air force bases.

2,000 Soldiers In Parade.

Preceding the game, there will be a parade of about 2,000 soldiers, Major Norman Penny of the Lincoln army air field reported. He said that the parade will be formed at Fifteenth and O at 12:30 p. m., and then the soldiers will march to the stadium and to a special reserve section. Formation of the troops, playing of the national anthem and the passing of the colors in review will be at 1:30 p. m. The game will begin at 2 p. m. The Lincoln army air field band will perform special maneuvers, Maj. Penny said.

Lt. Yelsky said that the game will have a collegiate atmosphere since virtually all on the team are college men remaining. Glen Dobbs, Tulsa All-American, is the star.

Benefits Aid Society.

Proceeds from the games will go to the army air forces aid society.

Soldiers from Lincoln, Harvard, Fairmont, Bruning, Kearney and McCook are expected to attend the game.

Sid Anderson, chairman of the football committee of the junior chamber of commerce which is sponsoring the football game, presided at the meeting. Others present besides Lt. Yelsey, were Vaulx Risser, Russ Eichelberger, Jack Wiley, Lt. George Stauffacher, Maj. Norman Penny and Joe Miller.

Sgt. McEntarffer, Wounded, Writes Of Heroic 134th

T/Sgt. Harry E. McEntarffer, son of Harry E. McEntarffer, 3224 No. Forty-Ninth street, was wounded in France on September 10.

"I was wounded in both legs, the left arm, and in the chest, but I guess I'll live,"

H. E. M'Entarffer

Sgt. McEntarffer's letter to his father said. He adds, as an afterthought, that it was not rifle fire but artillery fire that got him. "I guess my luck just ran out," he explains.

He encloses in the letter some pages from "Yank," the army magazine, telling how the 134th infantry regiment, which he describes as "my outfit," was the first to enter the town of Montargis, one of the key towns on the road to Paris.

Sgt. McEntarffer attended Jackson high school in Lincoln and worked for the Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power company before entering the service with the national guard in 1940.

He was married in California before going overseas, and his wife and child are now living in Los Angeles.

Russian Naval Base Operated On West Coast

. . . SEATTLE PAPER DISCLOSES

SEATTLE, Sept. 30—(AP)—Operation by the soviet government of a naval base on American soil and its use as a rendezvous port for trans-shipment of cargoes and refueling of Russian armed vessels was reported last night in a copyright article in the Post-Intelligencer.

The article by Mel Meadows, a staff reporter, said the revelation that Russian armed vessels were being based at and operated out of "an American port" under Russian command was made to the paper by Rep. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash).

Magnuson, ranking Pacific coast member of the house naval affairs committee, was quoted as saying that he had learned "only recently" of Russian operations in the American port, although they had been conducted secretly for the last 15 months.

"Direct inquiry," the congressman was quoted as saying, "to Secretary of Navy James V. Forrestal confirmed information reaching me that the soviet base is being operated by the Russian government under the terms of the lend-lease agreement."

Boys' State To Be Resumed In '45

Cornhusker Boys' State will return to the campus of the University of Nebraska college of agriculture next summer after an absence of two years, it was announced Friday by Judge Edward F. Carter, president. The exact date will probably be determined at a meeting of the board of directors in November.

The first Boys' State was held in Nebraska in 1938 and discontinued two years ago because facilities at the agricultural college were in use by the army. Each year in the past between 250 and 300 boys have attended and a similar attendance is expected next summer.

"Interest in Boys' State has been so great that the board did not feel justified in passing another year without holding it," Judge Carter said. "Because of the planning that is necessary for such an undertaking we felt that we should decide the issue now."

State Superintendent Wayne Reed was elected treasurer of the board and chairman of the committee in charge of revising the organization's manual.

Other members of the committee are: Roger V. Shumate, Lowell DeVoe and Charles Bomgardt of Omaha. The committee to study reorganization includes, Judge Carter, chairman, Dean F. E. Henzlik and John Curtiss. On the counselor committee are, Roy Lang, chairman, Charles Armstrong and Frank Chase. The eligibility committee headed by John Curtiss includes I. R. Dana and R. C. Patterson. On the housing arrangements committee are V. C. Hascall, Omaha, chairman, Lt. Col. W. E. McConnaughey and Van Taylor.

Only juniors in high school will be eligible to attend as in former years, Judge Carter announced. Scholarship and leadership qualifications will continue the most important things to be considered in the matter of election, he said.

—IOWA TRAGEDY—

Seek Cause Train Crash Killing Nine

Four Victims Still Termed 'Critical'

MISSOURI VALLEY, Ia., Sept. 30—(AP)—An inquiry began today into the cause of Thursday night's collision between a Chicago and North Western freight and passenger train, which killed six civilians and three soldiers and which has been described as Iowa's "worst" wreck "in recent years."

The inquiry was being conducted behind closed doors at the Missouri Valley city hall by representatives of the Iowa commerce commission, the interstate commerce commission and North Western officials from Chicago, Boone and Omaha.

Visit Scene of Wreck.

Investigators and crews of both trains involved in the collision, with other witnesses, visited the scene of the wreck and then returned to the city hall.

H. A. Franklin, safety engineer for the Iowa state commission, said last night the accident was "certainly the worst in recent years," adding that while he did not have comparative figures available he believed the wreck between two passenger trains at Green Mountain, Ia., about 30 years ago might have been worse.

At Council Bluffs, Ia., four persons remained in "critical condition" and nine persons were released, lowering to 34 the number still confined in Mercy and Jennie Edmundson hospitals.

Attendants today described as "critical" the condition of Mrs. Agnes Steenhoven of Hull, Ia., whose soldier husband and 16-month-old daughter were killed in the wreck; Charlotte Irwin, 3, Omaha; Mrs. John Anderson, 23, of Lakefield, Minn., and S/Sgt. Chester Hallburg of Worthington, Minn.

Showing Improvement.

Hospital attendants added that all of the critically injured are continuing to show improvement.

Workmen at Missouri Valley completed probing the wreckage last night without uncovering any more bodies. It had been reported a 5-year-old girl was still missing.

Traffic was moving through the main line without interruption.

Dr. Paul Johnston Takes Pastorate In Los Angeles

Dr. Paul C. Johnston, former minister of Westminster Presbyterian church, has accepted a call to the pulpit of Immanuel Presbyterian church, in Los Angeles, one of the largest Presbyterian churches in the United States.

Dr. Johnston came to Lincoln in 1922 and left Westminster in 1938, going to the Third Presbyterian church in Rochester, N. Y. His resignation will be offered to the Rochester congregation on October 8.

Before leaving Lincoln he had been offered high church honors and had not accepted them. In May of 1938, two months after he took the Rochester pastorate, he was nominated for stated clerk of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church and in July of 1939 he was offered the general secretaryship of the church' board of Christian Education, refusing both of these.

The Los Angeles church, which will be Dr. Johnston's fifth charge, has a $1,500,000 structure and a membership of 4,200. He is a graduate of Bellevue college and of the McCormick Theological seminary in Chicago.

Camp Fire Girls In Flower Festival

More than 500 Camp Fire girls and Blue Birds participated in a flower festival Saturday morning, and vied for prizes for the best flower arrangements, to be judged later in the day by Camp Fire board members. The flowers were taken to the army air field hospital.

After bringing the flowers to the Red Cross headquarters, from which they were transported to the Lincoln army air field, the girls were the guests of the Camp Fire board for breakfast in St. Paul Methodist church. The Westminster Presbyterian Camp Fire group, led by Mrs. Ed Hammond, went to the army air field and presented the flowers to hospital officials.

Many of the guests at the breakfast attended the movie at the Nebraska theater, clothing for the liberated countries' drive, being used for tickets.

Oct. 18 Is Earliest Possible Execution Date For MacAvoy

October 18 is the earliest possible date for the execution of Pvt. Joseph MacAvoy, 24, Brooklyn, N. Y., convicted in connection with the rape slaying of Anna Milroy, 16-year-old Sutton, Neb., girl, the clerk of the Nebraska Supreme court said Friday.

That is the date when MacAvoy's attorney, L. R. Doyle, must have the record in his appeal filed with the United States Supreme court at Washington. Original date for the execution was September 29 which was stayed by the notice of appeal. Doyle said today he is preparing a record for appeal.

Federal Grand Jury Meets Here Oct. 11

The Federal grand jury will be called for Wednesday, Oct. 11 at 9 o'clock.

According to Fred Hawxby, assistant District attorney, there are approximately 22 cases at the present time, with more to be expected before Oct. 11. One of the important cases on which evidence will be heard by the jury concerns a conspiracy for transporting intoxicating liquor into Kansas, a violation of the Reed act. Another case will concern unlawful transportation of stolen goods.

Among the cases are several violations of the Dyer act, several violating the selective service act and the office of price administration rulings concerning rents. There will be also several cases dealing with forging and uttering government checks.

Victor Anderson Still Believes City Should Buy Consumers Lines

Victor Anderson, Havelock hardware merchant and member of the board of Sanitary District No. 1, who had circulated a petition in Havelock urging that the city council proceed with negotiations in the matter of the city's proposed acquisition of the Lincoln distributing properties, of the Consumers Power district said Saturday morning that he was still of the opinion that two duplicating systems are not to the best interests of the city of Lincoln.

"In my statement, carried in a Lincoln newspaper Friday, it was not my intention to condemn any member of the Lincoln city council. Neither was it my intention to convey the thought that I was not in favor of the proposed acquisition of the Consumers distributing properties. What I meant to convey was that I was not in favor of the special meeting of the city council held Thursday evening. Again I wish to say that I am heartily opposed to the operation of two such plants, in Lincoln, and feel that the city should continue its negotiations for the purchase of the Consumers Lincoln distributing properties," Mr. Anderson said.

Grand Chapter Officers Guests of Local R.A.M.

Capstone chapter No. 64 Royal Arch Masons was host Friday night to eight grand chapter officers. Included in the list of guests were: William T. Poucher, Tekamah; Dr. David Hilton, Lincoln; W. S. Gillette, Norfolk; E. Plummer Martin, Omaha; Curry W. Watson, Lincoln; Boyd Harris, Gering and Louis E. Smith of Omaha.

As a special feature in the evening's program, seven candidates were initiated. A. E. Wolfe presided. Elmer E. Magee past high priest, was an honor guest of the chapter.

CITY BRIEFS

Loses Purse.—Mrs. Ruth MacGregor, 3947 Haddon Road, reported to police Friday the loss of a purse on a downtown street sometime Thursday.

Collections of $545.—Collection reports of the city health department, filed by Dr. M. F. Arnholt, superintendent, with City Clerk Theo. Berg for the month of September revealed that a total of $545.02 had been collected in fees by the department of milk inspection. Collections for dental services rendered indigent families during the month totalled $200 and fees paid by food handlers $46.75. A total of $7.80 was collected covering meat inspections. Gas readings, taken during the month of August, averaged 1062 B. T. U.s.

Purse Stolen.—A leather purse "What Is the Place of Liberal Arts in Postwar Education?" will be the topic for discussion on the University of Nebraska's Forum of the Air which will be heard Saturday at 5 p. m. on KFAB. Dr. C. H. Patterson, chairman of the philosophy department, will act as moderator. Other participants will be M. A. Hyde, of the Security Mutual Life Insurance company; Dr. H. E. Bradford, chairman of the department of vocational education; and Dr. O. H. Werner, of the teachers college.

Nebraska '44 Intangible Tax Is $1,080,893

Nebraskans will pay a total tax of $1,080,893 on intangible property, State Tax Commissioner Robert Armstrong reported Saturday in a summary of tax reports from county assessors throughout the state.

It was shown in Class A intangibles the properties amounted to $116,502,242, while in Class B they amounted to $98,704,742.

Breaking down the reported taxable properties throughout Nebraska substantial gains were shown in holdings in shares of foreign corporations securities, shares in building and loan associations over the 1943 holdings.

In 1944 the report shows $2,223,519 securities taxable, as compared with $1,556,368 in 1943. In the division of shares in building and loan associations, $1,146,665 properties were taxable in 1944 as opposed to $989,613 in 1943.

Book accounts, due bills and notes, next indexed in the report, showed notes throughout Nebraska have decreased to $3,270,763 in 1944 under $5,259,231 in 1943. Due bills dropped $386,008 this year as compared with $425,116 in 1943, while book accounts came up from $12,722,606 in 1943 to $13,852,888 in 1944.

In the claims and demands division, the 1944 returns show a rise $3,001,405 as opposed to $2,158,804 in 1943. The specially classified intangibles jumped from $85,669,861 in 1943 to $98,704,742 in 1944.

Case Dismissed When U-Turn Found Not Illegal

Undecided as to whether she should plead guilty or not guilty to a charge of making an illegal U turn, Harriet Hoagland, 1545 Washington, turned to the judge and remarked exasperatedly: "I'll plead guilty. I might just as well because I'll be fined anyway—everybody is."

Resenting the remark, Judge Edward C. Fisher told her that she evidently was unfamiliar with court proceedings and that she was unfair in making such a statement. He added that if there was a question as to her guilt, she should plead not guilty.

When the officer's report was read revealing that the U turn had been made on Twelfth and R streets, Judge Fisher stated that he didn't believe she had made an illegal turn since U turns are only illegal when they are made on arterial streets or under stop lights.

After Lieut. Clinton Hurd, of the traffic department explained that the street was not an arterial street and that the turn was not illegal, Judge Fisher dismissed the case.

Jap Garrisons On Guam, Tinan Are Destroyed

LONDON, Sept. 30 — (AP) — Japanese imperial headquarters announced in a Tokyo broadcast today that Japanese garrisons on Guam and Tinian islands had been destroyed by Sept. 27 and that Japanese residents on the islands "seem to have shared the fate of the troops."

In a commentary on the communique the Japanese information bureau said that of the 15,000 civilians on Tinian 3,700 formed a voluntary battalion and fell on the battlefield.

"The aged, the women and the children committed suicide as soon as the enemy had pierced the last defensive positions," the broadcast said. "It was similar on the island of Guam."

Before her marriage on Saturday, September 2, Mrs. Fred Knoppel was the former Miss Pauline Beidick of Lincoln.

CRETE NOTES

Dean Fuhrer and son, Clarence, of Denver, arrived Tuesday morning to visit Mr. Fuhrer's mother, Mrs. Mathena Fuhrer, for several days.

Mrs. Elvin Schultz and daughter of Sutton, are guests this week of Mrs. Schultz' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lothrop.

The Crescent, made up of past matrons of the Crete chapter of Eastern Star, and affiliated residing members, entertained the past patrons at a dinner in the Masonic hall Tuesday evening. Tables were arrange in "T" formation, attractively decorated with garden flowers. Following the dinner, officers were elected, as follows: Mrs. Ella Lillibridge, president; Mrs. Ruth Davison, vice president; Mrs. Farerie May, secreatry-treasurer. Many letters from absent members were read.

Miss Gertrude Brown, who has spent the summer visiting her brother, former district Judge Ralph E. Brown and family, Los Angeles, Calif., stopped in Crete from Thursday to Tuesday, en route to New Haven, Conn., where she is engaged in war work. While here Miss Brown called at the homes of G. A Gregory, Mrs. Mary V. Johnston, and other old friends. She was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith.

Last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. O. Axthelm, accompanied Mrs. Sadie Vance and Thomas Moneypenny, living southwest of here, to Plattsmouth, where they visited Mrs. Joseph Vance and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vance, jr., and family.

Arriving here recently from Atlanta, Ga., was Mrs. Keith Graul, who will be a duration guest in the Charles Bertwell home.

Mrs. I. L. McGee was hostess at a two-course luncheon at the Crete hotel, Tuesday at 1 o'clock. Guests were Mrs. O. A. Davison and daughter, Wilma Davison, T 3/c, of Hutchinson, Kans. Mrs. Edgar Savage, and Mrs. Jerry Conkel. Mrs. Conkel won high score at bridge, which followed the luncheon.

Mrs. Loren E. Brolliar, who has spent two weeks with relatives at Fort Collins, Colo., returned Tuesday, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Effie Myers, Los Angeles, Cal., who will visit here for several days.

Mrs. Herbert Smith was hostess last Friday at a 1 o'clock luncheon for Miss Gertrude Brown, New Haven, Conn.; Mrs. Zephyr Fulton, Minneapolis; and Miss Mabel McCargar.

Guests in the E. B. Hardeman home during the past week were: Mrs. E. H. Bush, Tecumseh; Mrs. Emma Asplund, Enid, Okla.; Mrs. Kathleen Sandusky and daughter, Seward; and Miss Ella Sandusky, Tecumseh.

Division No. 1 of the women's association of the Congregational church, with Mrs. J. D. Menke, leader, in charge of arrangements, held their fall luncheon Tuesday at the church. Mrs. Elizabeth Kolarik conducted the devotions; Rev. J. F. Balzer called atention to the drive to collect clothing for war relief; and Mrs. A. E. Grasse gave a comprehensive talk on 'How I Got Out of Germany." Mr. and Mrs. Grasse arrived in the United States in 1933.

Twenty-eight teachers and former teachers in the Crete schools were present at the annual dinner Saturday evening. This organization was first suggested by Miss Elizabeth Beika, its object, to hold an annual reunion of women wh ohave taught in the Crete schools. Mrs. A. E. Grasse, of Doane college, was guest speaker. Methodist W. S. C. S. women served the dinner.

The Victor Dvorak family, former Crete residents, now living on a farm near Clarion, Ia., were guests over Thursday and Friday of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beika. While here the Dvoraks met many former neighbors.

A committee of eight supervisors of the Red Cross rooms met with Mrs. E. J. Hardeman Monday afternoon to plan the work for the coming season.

Suicide, Attempted Murder Ended Romance Of Former Nebraska Pair

A runaway romance which began in David City, Neb., ended in Chicago Wednesday with a suicide and atempted murder. Carl Zeilinger, 55, was found dead in the room of Mrs. Ada Smith, 32, who was found unconscious.

The following is quoted from the Chicago Sun:

"Police said Zeilinger had struck her with the hammer and then ended his own life.

"At David City it was learned that Zeilinger left his wife, Lily, and his daughter, Mrs. Ethel Bohoty, in September, 1942. At the same time Mrs. Smith fled from her husband, Lloyd, and her son, Leroy, now 9 years old. She later obtained a divorce, police said.

"The couple came to Chicago about a year ago and took up residence in separate quarters at the rooming house. She registered under her maiden name, Ada Fox, and he took an assumed name, Harold Hawley.

"Police are uncertain as to what caused them to quarrel, but a houseman at the rooming house, James Plucinski, said he was passing Mrs. Smith's room about 10 p. m. Tuesday night and heard her shout: 'Get out of here! I never want to see you again!'

Note Found.

"The hammer and razor, both bloodstained, were found on the floor, and in Zeilinger's hand was a note that read: 'Tell Victor Bohoty, Bellwood, Neb.'

"Bohoty, Zeilinger's son-in-law, told police how the couple had become enamored of each other and how they had fled their homes. He said Zeilinger's wife, Lilly, is employed at Omaha, and that Mrs. Smith's husband and child are still living on a farm near David City."

Weddings Plans And Travelers

Involved In Social News Today

BEGINNING TOMORROW the chronicle of time, as a matter of days and weeks and et cetera, goes under new management—October takes over for thirty-one days—including Hallowe'en. However there seem to be no important changes from a social standpoint. The weddings continue—the guests continue—the travelers continue, and, were it not for the war, life would continue along the same routine.

* * *

ON THE BOOKS FOR SUNDAY is the wedding of Miss Eugenia Nell Burnett and Howard H. Hall, which will take place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the Trinity Methodist church.

* * *

A WEEK FROM TOMORROW—at the First Presbyterian church, Miss Marietta Nunnally of San Francisco, formerly of Lincoln, will become the bride of Lieut. Cecil H. Murphree of Santa Maria, Cal.

Today Miss Nunnally announces the plans for her wedding. The service will be solemnized at 8 a'clock in the evening, with Dr. Arthur L. Miller reading the lines of the service. Miss Grace Finch will be at the organ.

Miss Nunnally has chosen her sister, Mrs. Thomas G. Christian of San Rafael, Cal., as her matron of honor. Her bridesmaids will be Mrs. Frederick Scott Verink, the former Lois Baker, Mrs. William J. Cotter, and Mrs. R. Y. Meachan.

Lieut. William Sluys will come from St. Joseph, Mo., where he is stationed, to serve Lieut. Murphree as best man.

* * *

Complimenting Miss Nunnally, Mrs. Verink was hostess at luncheon today at Hotel Cornhusker when she entertained a small group of guests. Following luncheon the afternoon was devoted to bridge.

* * *

AMONG SOME OF THE EARLY OCTOBER GUESTS will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen (Mary Janet McGeachin) who will arrive on Saturday, October 7, from Newburgh, N. Y., for a visit with Mrs. Allen's jarents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McGeachin.

On Sunday afternoon, October 8, Mr. and Mrs. McGeachin will preside at an open house at their home, complimenting their son-in-law and daughter, between the hours of 3 o'clock and 6 o'clock.

* * *

BUT THERE ARE STILL EARLIER arrivals—Captain and Mrs. W. K. Kennedy and their son, Keith, for instance, who come the forepart of the week from Weatherford, Tex., for a visit with Mrs. Kennedy's mother, Mrs. J. C. Barber.

From Lincoln Captain and Mrs. Kennedy and their son will go to Vancouver, Wash., for a visit with Captain Kennedy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kennedy.

* * *

IN CHICAGO THIS WEEK was Miss Verneda Whitney, secretary of the Nebraska Alumni association, who was called there because of the death of her aunt, Mrs. Fred W. Meadows. Mrs. Meadows was a siter of W. L. Whitney of Lincoln.

* * *

HOSPITAL NEWS TODAY has to do with the arrival of Charles Rutland Gardner, 3rd, on Saturday, September 30, at Lincoln General hospital. Young Charles is the son of Lieut. and Mrs. Charles R. Gardner, and the grandson of Mrs. J. Steve Tupper. The young man's father is stationed at Camp Stewart, Ga., and his mother—the former Cynthia Tupper, has been the guest of her mother for the past several weeks.

* * *

OVER AT HOTEL CORNHUSKER TODAY the members of Miss Beth Miller's summer music camp, which was held in Colorado, had a reunion luncheon. Luncheon places were arranged for ten, including from out of town Miss Janice Horn of Goodland, Kas.; Miss Jean Wallace, Ravenna, and Miss Patsy Payne, Council Bluffs.

* * *

ON THE HOMECOMING LIST this week were Mrs. Walton B. Roberts and her two sons, Douglas and John, who have returned from Los Angeles where they spent two months as the guests of Mrs. Roberts' parents, Dr. and Mrs. Milan S. Moore.

Service Emblems To Be Awarded Cushman Workers

Emblems representing from five to thirty years of service will be presehted as the Cushman Motor Works company holds a company dinner Saturday evening at the Hillcrest club. Between 800 and 900 will be present.

The program will include a stage show, with Gerry Adams as master of ceremonies, and numbers by Gus Sindt and Vern Buethe, Lula Jewett, a trio of Annarose Phillips, Louise Muelhausen and Jane Lee, a roller skate novelty by Larry Wurn and Doris Harris, and a medley by Forrest Norman, all employes of the company. The stage show personnel also are all Cushman employes.

Representatives of firms all over the United States attended the Cushman Motor Works distributors' meeting Friday and Saturday, which covered all phases of selling and distributing motor parts and motors.

Charles D. Ammon, president of the Cushman company, gave an address of welcome, which was followed by a trip through the plant. In the afternoon meeting J. H. Higgins, of the rubber division of the war production board, spoke on tires and the rubber situation. G. P. DeBra spoke on the sales program, and R. Snyder, S. Zadina, and O. Wisbey dealt with parts and service.

ESTATE FILINGS

Petition for the estate of Meno Gerdes, who died June 23, 1944, was filed in County court asking that a son of the deceased, Gerhard Gerdes, Lincoln, be appointed administrator of the estate. Other heirs at law listed are three sons, Herman of Malcolm, Neb., Bernard of Omaha and John of Valparaiso; two daughters, Emma Hellerich and Marie Hellerich of Valparaiso, Neb.; six nieces and nephews.

W. R. P. C. Club Members Have Dessert Luncheon

The W. R. P. C. club members met Friday afternoon in the club rooms for a 1:30 o'clock dessert luncheon. An interesting paper on "Women in the Armed Forces," was read by Mrs. C. E. Bobbitt, and a musical program of songs was presented by Mrs. H. E. Ware, soloist, and Mrs. D. Z. Marx and Mrs. R. E. Snell, who sang several duets. Thirty-eight members and six guests were present for the luncheon, for which Mrs. Bert Pyles, Mrs. F. V. Hulfish and Mrs. C. E. Anderson served as hostesses.

The members of the club will meet for Red Cross sewing on Monday at the home of Mrs. S. R. Hutchinson, 3027 South Twenty-seventh street.

College View P. T. A. Gives Series of Social Affairs

Members of the College View P. T. A. entertained Friday afternoon in the school auditorium at the fourth tea in a series of affairs planned to stimulate interest in the Parent Teacher association. Mrs. Rasche Myers, president, introduced the grade school teachers to the mothers, and the afternoon was spent with games. The membership committee, including Mrs. C. C. Dill and Mrs. L. V. Howett, and assisted by mothers representing the different grades, served the refreshments. Special guests were Mrs. May Boyd, Mrs. Daisy Kilgore, Mrs. Charles Fowler and the executive officers of the College View association.

Mrs. Krogh Honored On Birthday Anniversary

In courtesy to Mrs. Dorothea Krogh, 935 South Thirty-first street, who celebrated her birthday anniversary on Friday, a group of friends entertained at a surprise covered dish luncheon Friday afternoon. Many cards and gifts were presented to Mrs. Krogh, and the afternoon was spent with cards, high score prizes going to Mrs. Mary Yauney and Mrs. R. A. Shindel.

ABOUT PEOPLE

A Pair of Interesting Guests

Spending the past few weeks in Lincoln were Mrs. Kenyon T. Payne—the former Jane Boucher—and her young daughter, Martha Joanna. Mrs. Payne and her daughter have been the guests of Mrs. Payne's parents, Chancellor and Mrs. C. S. Boucher, and left Friday evening for San Antonio, Tex., where they will join Major Payne.

The travelers were accompanied as far as Manhattan, Kas., by Mrs. Boucher.

Beta Sigma Phi Groups Entertain on Friday

The Alpha Iota chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, entertained Friday evening, following the regular business meeting, for three members who have been given a year's leave of absence. Mrs. Edithe Seger and Miss Edna McNulty were in charge of arrangements for the affair which honored Mrs. Helen Raymer, Mrs. Betty Zamzow and Miss Dorothy Bower. A scrapbook, made by the members, was presented with a gift to Mrs. Raymer, former secretary of the group, and assisting with the quiz program and refreshments were Miss Pauline Hultquist, Mrs. Phyllis Crist and Mrs. Edithe Seger. Mrs. Lola Coddington presided at the business meeting preceding the party, at which time various committee reports were read, and Miss Lydia Snyder was appointed chapter secretary to replace Mrs. Raymer. Mrs. Madeline Schmidt was named rush chairman and plans for rush parties were discussed.

* * *

The members of Theta chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, held a buffet supper Friday evening in the chapter rooms. Guests of the group were Miss Anne Kaminske, Mrs. Fred Dyerman and Miss Phyllis Gourley, and prizes were won by Mrs. Dyerman, Miss Kaminske and Mrs. Earl Parrish.

Miss Herdt Hostess To Business Girls Group

The Alpha Beta chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, entertained at a "Kid" party Friday evening at the home of Miss Virginia Herdt, 2336 South Thirteenth street, with eight rushees as guests. Following an evening spent with games, refreshments were served. Prize winners for the evening were Miss Mavis Wolfe, Miss Rita Van House, Miss Ione Rischling, Miss Nellie Knight and Miss Audrey Hawley.

Miss Margaret Jones Weds Pvt. Jesse E. Bennett, Jr.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Jones of Anchorage, Alaska, to Pvt. Jesse E. Bennett, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Bennett of Lincoln, was solemnized at a 7:30 o'clock service on Friday evening, September 1, at the Community Presbyterian church in Anchorage. The Rev. R. Rolland Armstrong read the lines of the double ring service.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Victor Gill.

Both the bride and her attendant, Miss Martha Jones, her sister, wore tailleurs in pastel tones, and their flowers were rosebud corsages.

Cpl. Dan Herrington served Pvt. Bennett as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Bennett attended school in Anchorage, and also is a former student at the Holy Name academy, Seattle, Wash.

Pvt. Bennett attended the University of Nebraska before entering the service.

WHEN OPTIMISM SUFFERS A CHILL

Week's-end had found confirmation of the first clear-cut allied military reverse since late in 1942, when Rommel's tough Afrika Korps began tossing sand in swift retreat from Montgomery's British army. It was a British airborne division that met up with disaster in advance positions along the Neder-Rhine near Arnhem. Ultimately the full story will be told.

An Audacious Plan

For the time being, its outlines necessarily must be indistinct. But it was a German victory; it was an allied defeat. It was more than that. It was a temporary check to the master strategy which had visioned allied break-through at the northern end of the Siegfried line and a thrust into the heart of Hitler's industrial Ruhr, with its industrial cities and the remnants of their war plants. This, rather than a smash against the Siegfried line frontally, had it been successful would inevitably have meant a saving in lives of American and British young manhood.

Ike's Consideration

At all times, General Dwight Eisenhower had shaped his strategy with an eye and with the thought of the men under him, as well as complete united nations triumph. There has been no wastage of life. Time and time again, every possible endeavor to conserve the manhood under his command has been put forth. Eisenhower still believes victory may be possible before the close of the present year. He is not given to loose statements. He is prudent and conservative in his predictions. And it may develop that the war in Europe will be over before the end of 1944, yet it may develop that it will stretch out into the spring of 1945.

Too Much "In the Bag"

Here, and in the British Isles also, the amazing victories of the armies in the field not only thrilled the peoples of the united nations but it led them astray possibly. It created a spirit of overconfidence in them, which Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Churchill, Marshal Stalin, General George C. Marshall, the American chief-of staff, and all the other military leaders—warning of tough fighting ahead—could not offset. It was like a fever in the veins.

Echoes at Home

Here at home it has been helped along by the politicians. "The war is over," they shouted to the American people. "It is drawing to a close; the firing will end shortly." Developments may bring the victory for which everyone hopes, but the time to end the war here on the home front is when the war ends on the battlefront. Even then, the possibility of organized resistance giving way to isolated battles of groups of nazis operating in guerrilla fashion should be recognized. This time, generally, it is agreed the war criminals shall be punished. Only on Friday, official Russian disclosures, taking note of the talk of a "soft peace" in Germany that has been current among some British leaders, served notice there is not going to be any "soft peace" for the nazis in Germany, or for those outside the nazi organization in Germany who have aided in this war.

Do We Go Along?

Do we go along with the demand for a thorough job of cleaning up a German leadership that has bathed the world in blood twice in the past 44 years? Do we intend this time to see to it that the job is actually done? Well, if we do, there will be less talk about the war being over in a day or a week. We'll make it our business until actually resistance ends, allied armies march into Berlin, either with or without opposition, and the German armies are beaten.

Those Autumn Rains

Much depends upon weather, and the autumn season in the Low countries and eastern France involves trickiness exceeded only by the sly German propagandist. Rain and mud and snow in the highlands ,and problems of transportation in supply and reinforcements of huge armies in the field, necessarily precipitates questions of doubt. One thing is certain. The American people and their allies would have the greatest regret if the cry for action should produce a situation that unnecessarily would cost thousands of lives and might defeat itself. It isn't going to happen.

Proper Protection

One thing that Eisenhower and his generals in the field will not do—and they should be applauded for it—is to send hundreds of thousands of men into battle without proper air and artillery barrages. The artillery barrage is not complete without the air accompaniment, and the work of the bomber in the skies is not fully effective without the support of artillery. That is where weather particularly comes in but it also affects the matter of reinforcement and supply and the general effectiveness of armored operations.

Cheapest Commodity

These phases of the war present time itself as the cheapest commodity upon which the peoples of the allied nations call. Time is not the first consideration in either peace or war. One simple example will suffice. Many of the reporters covering the Dumbarton Oaks conference have been sharpening their pencils and dipping them into vitriol because its preliminary phases have stretched out six weeks—and now the second chapter is beginning with the Chinese discussion. Isn't that terrible? The war has been in progress in Europe since 1939, or well into its fifth year. Dumbarton Oaks has been grinding away for six weeks. These gentlemen of the press are to be congratulated upon their delicate sense of timing. There has been better than nine years of war entailing millions of casualties and frightful destruction in the last 44 years—and the peace settlements embracing the Versailles treaty, defeat of the League here in the United States, and the present Dumbarton Oaks conference altogether embraces less than nine months of discussion. Perhaps, a little more time wasted on the discussions of peace might save some of the years wastefully spent on the battlefield.

Signs of Good Cheer

Apparently, the newspapermen demand miracles in the discussions of peace machinery. They expect Russia, China, Great Britain and the United States to see eye-to-eye and jaw-to-jaw on all matters of peace. There was agreement in these preliminary discussions upon approximately 90 per cent of the points at issue. There were different conflicting views on 10 per cent, involving the exact mechanism of the peace force to maintain world peace. That is a pretty good starter. Even more, the Chinese discussions open with the declaration that China was in accord with the American and British peace plans. Returning congressmen from Europe added their voices to the endorsement of an international peace organization backed by force.

Speed the Day

In Washington, President Roosevelt called upon trouble-shooter Leo T. Crowley to report upon the plan to clip Germany's military wings through economic precautions. Specifically, the president requested Crowley to relax controls upon exports as much as continuing war objectives will permit, to review strategic and critical raw material stock piles with the view of reducing procurement from foreign sources, to change the program of economic warfare in order to focus its effects fully upon Japan, and to accelerate the studies to prevent Germany from having war-making powers in the future.

Again the Three Meet

In London there was the report that Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin will meet in December, although final arrangements could not be made until after the presidential election. Teheran, site of their first parley, may bring them together again.

German Mills

Hitler's propaganda minister, Paul Goebbels, was working three eight-hour shifts a day. Every trick the pudgy nazi leader had was being called upon. The answer to Churchill was that he had spoken so much with the feeling of hatred and revenge, no politician should do it.

No Loafing On the Job

The war in the Pacific was not lagging. Still a third carrier-based attack upon the Philippines and Philippine waters had cost the Japs another merchant fleet, along with some warships. Those waters now contain 144 ships sunk, 180 damaged, in addition to 200 small surface craft, and 1,014 planes destroyed. The Yanks lost 61 planes, 42 pilots and 23 crewmen. That is shooting. But the essence of allied action against Japan still is to come and, to dispel any false notions, the nearer the war pushes to the Japanese mainland, then the tougher the going is going to be.

DIET AND HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D., Author of "The Human Body"

VITAMIN DEFICIENCY

I have always thought there was much exaggeration in the reports about the extent of vitamin deficiency in the United States and Canada. I have also felt there was a screw loose somewhere in the researches which indicate the need for such large amounts of vitamins daily ,as generally specified.

The vitamins were discovered about 1906, named in 1911, but didn't get much play in medicine and hygiene until about 1925. We are now told that the diet of over half the American people is inadequate and that millions show evidence of deficiency diseases.

It just doesn't make sense. The diet of the American people has not changed radically since 1906 except to be enlarged to contain more vitamin-containing foods—green and yellow vegetables and fresh fruits. If so we are better off than the population before 1906. It doesn't seem possible to me that the entire American people did what they did before 1906 and on the whole looked as healthy as they did on a deficiency diet.

I suggest a board of real clinicians be appointed to check the findings of the vitamin experts.

On that board I would like Dr. L. Emmett Holt, of Baltimore, who recently released a paper in which he said:

1. "The daily intake of thiamine (vitamin B) could be reduced to one-tenth of recommended daily allowance of the national research council and kept at this level for months without any evidence of vitamin deficiency."

2. "The incidence of B deficiencies in the United States appears to be greatly overestimated."

3. "Indiscriminate vitamin medication is not without possibilities of harm and should be condemned."

On that board also I would like to have Dr. Paul Wosika, of Chicago, who recently reported after a number of tests that night blindness, as shown by dark adaptation, was more due to other factors than Vitamin A in the diet.

On that board also I would like to have Dr. Lieutenant Michael Pijoau, U. S. N., who recently reported about Vitamin C:

1. "Aside from its influence on the amino-acid metabolism of premature infants, the prevention and treatment of scurvy is the only role that can be ascribed to Vitamin C.

2. "Relatively small amounts of the vitamin and not necessarily daily are sufficient."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

H. A. D.:—A friend recently advised me to drink three or more glasses of water each morning before getting out of bed to relieve constipation. Would this daily practice of consuming such a great amount of Adam's Ale have any harmful effect?

Answer: No harm. The army's requirements are four quarts of water a day when the temperature is 95 degree Fahrenheit. The water first thing in the morning helps constitpation by starting peristalsis all along the digestive tract.

GARDEN GLANCES
WITH THE MOON

THE ETERNAL FEMININE.

In all the days that are to be,
These will be woman's fondest wishes;
A table set for company
With silverware and lovely dishes;
A home that she can call her own;
A garden that her care has tended;
And trinkets to be proudly shown
Until the day her life is ended.

Man wants his bit of wordly fame
And aches to do his share of boasting;
But woman, at a friendly flame,
Prefers to do the breakfast toasting.
Her dreams are not of goals afar,
Or splendors past the strength for capture;
In pretty lace and linen are
Her hopes of peace and rapture.

No matter what the war may do,
'Twill little change the passions human;
A home to love her lifetime through
Will be the dream of every woman.
She'll want a place to trim herself,
To cherish till from early she passes,
With here and there a handy shelf
For painted cups and crystal glasses.

The moon is in the fruitful and watery sign Pisces today. Sunday morning at 9:20 it will enter the barren and fiery sign Aries. And the third Lunar quarter will begin Sunday night at 11:22. Tuesday morning at 8:47 the moon will enter the earthy and semi-fruitful sign Taurus.

Tuesday and Wednesday while the moon is in this dry and earthy sign, will be excellent days to dig root crops for storage, onions, potatoes and the like; also dig and store in a cool, dry place all of your summer bulbs that have matured as, Fairy Lilies, Glads, Cannas, Peruvian daffodils, Madeira vines, tuberoses, Tigridias and the like. On Thursday morning at 10:02 the moon will enter the airy and barren sign Gemini.

Time To Pick Apples.

If you will pick apples and pears for storage in the third or fourth quarter of the moon and preferably in a dry, fixed sign as Taurus, Aquarius or Leo, the bruised spots, should there be any, will dry. When picked in the first and second quarters the bruised spots tend to rot. All root crops, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, carrots, turnips and the like, if harvested in the third and fourth quarters, will keep better and last longer. When dug in a watery sign they will become moist and quickly rot. Also gather seeds of flowers and vegetables in the third quarter in a fruitful sign and place them in paper bags with air holes for ventilation, then store them in a cool dry place.

Last weekend it was Mrs. John C. Whitten's and my pleasure to judge the flower arrangements at the Urban League fall carnival fair. I did not mention this before, because I'd hoped to have a complete list of the prize winners, in the various classes, and give them to you in order. However, I do not want to let another day pass without mention of this very worthwhile project.

Mrs. Eugene Huston won the first prize for her arrangement of roses in a low bowl. And Mrs. Odessa Johnson I believe won first prize for her arrangement in a vase less than 20 inches high. There were also arrangements of marigolds, zinnias and any other garden flowers, a shell holding ageratum and false dragonhead winning first in this last class.

Dahlia Arrangement.

Mrs. James H. Dean's arrangement won first in dahlia class and had particular appeal for the deep crimson of the dahlias picked up the color of the roses in the design of the bowl holding them. We learned later, the bowl was a family keepsake having belonged to Mrs. Dean's mother. I hope to give you, at a later date, the complete list of prize winners.

Mrs. Feliz Polk won first prize for the best cake in the baked goods section. And the canned vegetables, meats and fruits were works of art and must have been difficult to judge for they all looked outstanding to us.

I've never seen a more artistic quilt than Mrs. Wyeth W. Williams' "carnation applique" in red and white. We understood it had taken a prize at the State Fair, and well it might for it was a beautiful creation in design and workmanship. There were several heirlooms in the quilt display and we noticed a date of the 1880s on one of them.

Clyde W. Malone, who is a graduate of the University of Nebraska with a degree from the college of law, is the executive secretary of the Urban League and is doing a very commendable work for his people. They plan to make this an annual affair, and I am sure it will grow in attendance and exhibitors, for they have shown great interest "in the home beautiful."

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

PERMANENCE

Perpetual flowers are harsh as brass,
Nor do they mind the frost.
They dance with all the winds that pass,
Since charm cannot be lost.
Yet, little thought to them is paid,
More beautiful are flowers that fade.

Time was—oh, many years ago!—
The mother kept a few.
She thought it would be nice to know
Their beauty, winter through.
But long before the spring returned
The very sight of them she spurned.

And when of her I questioned why,
Her answer thus she made:
"We seldom love what cannot die
Or time can never fade.
We only love from day to day
What, soon, or late, must pass away."

OPA Order Does Not Mean More Farming Tools

CHICAGO, Sept. 30—(AP)—The farm equipment institute said today the end of rationing and distribution control of farm equipment does not mean that any more agricultural implements will be available to farmers in the immediate future.

"The limitation orders applying to production of farm equipment," the institute declared in a statement, "are still operative and the manufacturers have allocated their curtailed output to dealers on the basis of war food administration instructions issued several months ago.

Wilber Farmer Killed Beneath Tractor Wheels

WILBER, Neb., Sept. 30—(AP)—Louis Divoky, 35, Wilber farmer, was killed Thursday night when he fell under the wheels of his tractor while returning home from a field. His body was found by his wife and brother-in-law.

Divoky also is survived by his mother and a sister, Mrs. Charles Esteriach, both of Wilber.

Chapter 21.

He grabbed the telephone, growled, "Give me Julie Scarbrough's place, the number is, Oh, hell, you know what it is, just get it for me...."

When Thorny and the two Chicago men arrived Julie suggested they go to the summer house for respite from the heat. Rankin, enmeshed in a blue haze of his own cigar smoke, drank his punch slowly and between sips kept up a running fire of conversation. "This is the ideal time to sell," he told Julie. "Why, after this war is over these plants won't be worth a dime a dozen. You can get your money out now and a nice little profit beside."

Julie sat quietly, then said, "It isn't a matter of profit with me, Mr. Rankin."

"What other reason would anyone have for enduring the headaches of modern business?"

Julie smiled, "A matter of principle." She flushed slightly, "It's a long story—."

"I know all about that," Rankin said crisply. "As I was telling Mr. Thorndyke here, we have gone into this thing thoroughly. We know all the circumstances—your father's unpopularity in the town, the factory fire. We know, too, the attempts you have made to get help at your plant and the disappointment you have met."

Julie, faintly tinkling the crushed ice in her glass, glanced across at Thorny. His face was granite, his jaw clenched to cover his excited joy.

Julie said, "My intention is to accomplish three things by sticking to my guns until I have made a success of this factory. First, I want to prove to the town that they have been unjustly accusing an innocent man all these years for a crime he didn't commit."

"You make reference to the Corboy death and your father's part in it?" Rankin asked.

Julie nodded.

"Secondly, I want to establish a business for my son. He is a bright boy and has prepared himself in this field by getting his degree as a paint chemist. And, lastly, I want to help the war effort by producing what they need."

"But if you fail to get workers," Rankin reminded her, "you will fail in the last two of these desires. The thing is this. We are already a going concern with an established trade. We have our organization. Taking over your plant would be a simple operation. We would simply send a skeleton organization out here from Chicago and fill in with local people."

Thorny rattled his pipe noisily as he dumped the ashes into a metal ash tray. "These men are right, Julie, and for my part I will frankly say that you would be a chump not to consider their offer."

Rankin lighted a fresh cigar from a silver box that Jonothan had placed on the table beside of his chair. Shifting in his chair, preparatory to approaching the problem from a new tack, Rankin said. "Summing up what you have said, Countess La Favre, I think we can work out a compromise that will be entirely satisfactory. Now, as far as your son is concerned, we are always looking for bright young men for our organization. We will go the limit and give him a chance to manage this Midvale branch at a salary of $10,000 a year. Of course, we will have an older head, a man of long experience, come here to work with him and show him the ropes for possibly a year. After that, providing he makes good, he will have complete charge."

Julie saw Thorny nodding his head violently. She didn't answer at once. The breeze off the lake had become stronger and sang through the tall, old trees. Far below the hill the gentle lapping of the water on the shore of the lake came with even rhythmic regularity.

She said at last, "I think you gentleman have been most generous and kind."

Thorny was smiling broadly now and puffing enthusiastically on his freshly loaded pipe.

"I can draw up the papers in the morning, gentlemen. Now if you could be in my office, we'll say about nine—" He stopped. Glancing over at Julie he saw that she was holding up the palm of her hand.

She spoke directly to Torny as if they were alone. "I'm sorry, Thorny, terrible sorry to be such a disappointing client but I don't feel that I can accept these gentlemen's offer.

Slowly Thorny took his pipe from his mouth. Forgetting himself completely he shouted, "My God, Julie, have you lost your mind! This is an ideal set-up both for you and for them. It assures Erich of the chance of a lifetime. The townspeople will work for outsiders, you know that! What more could you ask?"

Slow color mounted in Julie's cheeks. "It isn't a matter of terms. I have already agreed that they are most generous. But—I have reason to believe I can open the factory."

Thorny's tormented muttering was the only sound in the tense silence that followed. "Women, women—"

Rankin got up. "What say we don't try to settle the matter tonight?" he proposed cheerfully. "It's getting late and the heat has been beastly today. Hard on the nerves, I know. We will be at the hotel until the noon train leaves tomorrow. I think by morning things might look differently to Countess La Favre...They often do."

They all rose and Julie led them to the front door. "I want you gentlemen to know that I did appreciate your offer," she said as they stood on the threshold.

Rankin said, "I hope we'll hear from you in the morning."

Julie touched Thorny's arm. "Please stay a while," she said softly.

Thorny was fed up. He started to make excuses. But as the light from the hallway fell across Julie's face he caught the excited seceret glow in her eyes. "I have somthing to tell you." Her low voice stressed the words urgently.

Thorny shrugged and turned back. "It better be good," he growled.

U. N. Students Entertained At Church-Night Receptions

Over a thousand university students met at the separate churches of their denomination Friday night to observe all-university church night, and become acquainted with the local church staffs.

St. Paul Methodist church was host to 160 Methodist students, who were entertained at a barn party. Alpha Jeanne May directed informal games and square dancing, after which a dramatic worship service, "Make Up Your Life," was presented. Trinity Methodist church had games, led by Rev. Adrian Edgar, director of public relations at Wesleyan, and Elnora Bachenberg presided over a program which included vocal solos by Hugh Rangeler, head of city school music, and piano numbers by Tom Green. Fifty Ag college students met at Epworth church for an evening of games and singing led by Robert Marsh.

Games, Group Singing.

First Christian church had games and group singing for students of the Christian churches, directed by Mrs. Ray E. Rice, student counsellor of the Nebraska Christian foundation. Brief remarks were made by pastors of the Christian churches of Lincoln.

Catholic students, 112 strong, met at the Student Union to hear Father George Schuster speak on "The Value of a College Education." Father Schuster pointed out that a college education has more value today than at any other time, as the world is looking to today's college students for the leaders of tomorrow. He reminded those present that they would gain no more from the school than they put into it, and that it is therefore important that they remember the place of the church in school life. Father Schuster was introduced by Frances Buechel, president of the Newman club, who welcomed new students.

Vine Congregational church entertained 65 students at a party in the "South of the Border" theme. Gerry McKinsey told of her recent trip to Mexico; Julia Perez, a student from Puerto Rico, presented one of her country's dances, and a treasure hunt was held. David Fleming is head of the young people's group, which had charge of the evening. Another Congregational party was held at First Plymouth church, where Martha Vernon presented a carillon recital, Myron J. Roberts played the organ, and Rev. R. A. McConnell gave a word of welcome. Roller skating and dancing followed, and the ladies of the church served refreshments.

Jimmy Lewis, city recreation director, and his wife led informal games at the University Episcopal church, where 125 students joined for dancing and refreshments.

A mock political campaign, complete with three parties, caucauses, presentation of platforms, election speeches, and a sham battle between nominees entertained students at Calvary Evangelical church, where Bob Scheumeman, president of the youth fellowship, had charge of the formal program, and Norbert Sukovaty led games.

Lutheran students played games, directed by Mrs. William Bergstraesser, in the Temple building, and heard brief remarks by Lincoln Lutheran pastors, who told of their local church programs.

Westminster Presbyterian students who met for a party at Robbers cave, adjourned to the church annex after roasting wieners, as the cave was too small for the overflow crowd of 75. Presbyterian student house was the scene for games and dancing by the students of First, Fourth and Second Presbyterian churches. Pvt. Arthur Frackenpohl, ASTRP student, played some piano numbers.

A large group of Baptist students met at their student house, and after a get-acquainted session, journeyed to Second Baptist church for games. The formal program was presented at First Baptist church, where the students adjourned to hear Prof. Miles Dresskell of the school of music play several violin numbers. Phylls Fischer played marimba solos, and Norma Weir sang several selection. Milton Fiesenborg presided over the formal program.

—GALLUP POLL—

Public Expects Jap War to End Later Part '45

By GEORGE GALLUP
(Director American Inst. Public Opinion)

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 30—Although the average guess of the American public is that the war in Europe will be over before the end of this year, no such marked optimism prevails about the war in the Pacific.

The average of guesses on the length of the war against Japan would put the end of hostilities in the Pacific sometime during the latter half of 1945.

Moreover, the most recent Institute survey on the question finds some people not quite so optimistic as they were in July. At that time, a survey revealed 33 per cent of those with opinions expecting the war against the Japs to last into 1946 or later. Today, 36 per cent name sometime during 1946 or later for the Pacific war's end.

Even so, the public is more optimistic now than it was last March, when over half of the people questioned said they thought the Pacific conflict would go into 1946 or later. This was before the successes of our forces at Saipan and Guam, and before the bombings in the Philippines.

In its periodical soundings of public attitudes toward the length of the war in Japan, the Institute had field reporters ask a scientifically selected cross-section of voters this question:

"How much longer do you think the war with Japan will last?"

The replies of those making a guess add up as follows:

Think War Will End
In 1944	4%
In 1945	60
In 1946	28
In 1947 or later	8

In the present survey, one in twenty offered no opinion.

BRAIN TWIZZLERS

By Prof. J. D. Flint

A very successful lawyer maintained homes in two parts of the country. In order to have any time in both of them he had a standing arrangement with the pilot of a privately owned airplane to fly him from one to the other for two hundred dollars per round trip. One day just before departing for his other home the lawyer had a telephone call from an acquaintance who wanted to fly to a point half-way from the point of departure to the destination. He offered to pay the proportionate amount of the expense. As it turned out the lawyer picked him up again on the return trip. What should the acquaintance have paid to be correct?

License Of 'Barrel House' Rescinded, Stock Impounded

Morris Franklin, operator of the Barrel House, 421 South Thirteenth street, Omaha, lost his liquor license and suffered impounding of his stock forthwith by the state liquor control commission Friday, following hearing of charges of improper operation and possession of liquor on which the state tax had not been paid.

Franklin's attorney Bryce Crawford, Jr., made no effort at defense after state agents testified to finding numerous bottles of liquor at Franklin's home improperly stamped and to other circumstances indicating dealings with a Kansas liquor outlet. Crawford merely asked that since this charge and others pending against Franklin in Omaha had nothing to do with operation of the Barrel House, he be given reasonable time to liquidate his business.

Testimony showed this to be the fourth time Franklin had been cited to appear before the commission.

The commission suspended the license of L. P. Clark, Omaha, for ten days, and gave a thirty-day suspension to the Eagles club, Aerie No. 154, Omaha, for sale to a minor. Club attorneys insisted no sale was proved but that a guest merely left a bottle of beer on a table where members of the orchestra under age drank it.

CRETE NOTES

Grain Prices Hold Advances

CHICAGO, Sept. 30—(AP)—Grain futures markets held strong throughout today's session and the advance met little opposition. Profit taking developed on the bulges but a broad short covering movement apparently was under way and the offerings were absorbed readily.

The initial upturn came at the opening when commission houses had a large accumulation of overnight buying orders.

The trade in all markets was nervous as operators awaited announcement of a wheat price ceiling revision and new subsidiary rates to be paid millers on wheat ground during October.

At the close wheat was 1⅝ to 3c higher than yesterday's finish, December $1.63½@¾. Corn was up 1 to 2, December, $1.14⅝@¾. Oats were 1¼ to 2c higher, December 64¼c. Rye was up 2⅞ to 3¾, December $1.08½@⅝. Barley was 1½ to 3¼c higher, December $1.04¾.

War Chest Tells Own True Story, DuTeau Asserts

Outlining the publicity plans for the war fund campaign, Ellsworth DuTeau, publicity chairman, declared that the story of the war chest itself was the best line of publicity he could think of in speaking to the war chest speakers bureau Friday evening at the University club.

Emphasizing that "people will give from the heart much more readily than they will give from the head," DuTeau said that the line to follow in talks to various groups was to tell the story of the agencies backed by the war fund.

"People are glad to hear about the 'homes away from home' provided by the 3,030 USO clubs over the nation. They are glad to hear about the 87 units backed by the fund to provide entertainment to servicemen wherever they may be found, and about the 'barbed wire legion'—allied prisoners of war—and what the fund is doing for them," DuTeau stated.

Jerry Brownfield, assistant publicity director, stressed the fact that the speakers' bureau would carry the word of the war fund direct to the giver and asked that the speakers assemble the facts that will gain the quickest and surest results.

Fred Williams, assistant director of the state war fund, demonstrated some posters which are to be available to speakers, and outlined a five-point plan for speakers to follow. "Know your story; take your own medicine (subscribe to the war fund yourself); study your prospect; keep your eye on the target (getting the subscription); suggest a specific gift; get around, don't write, don't phone; and bring back the pledge card," Williams urged.

Jack Whitten and Jack Mathews also spoke briefly. Walker Battey, general chairman of the Lincoln campaign, presided. A picture of publicity for the nation-wide war fund drive was shown to close the program.

Stocks Gain, List Extends

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—(AP)—Selected stocks, paced by aircrafts and assorted specialties, kept on the recovery trail today with sizeable blocks of low-priced issues putting volume at one of the largest for a two-hour session in the past two months.

Hayes Mfg., liveliest performer, came out in deals of 1,000 to 10,000 shares, apparently further buyed by word the company was planning to exapnd its business by acquiring controlling interest in another manufacturing concern.

Gains of fractions to a point or so predominated near the close. Transfers were in the neighborhood of 500,000 shares.

At peaks for 1944 were Hayes Mfg., Bucyrus-Erie, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, Grumman, Lockheed, Consolidated Vultee and Sears Roebuck. Ahead most of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, U. S. Rubber, American Sugar Refining, Oliver Farm, American Telephone, Southern Pacific Du Pont and Westinghouse. Laggards were Chrysler, Republic Steel, International Harvester, Consolidated Edison, General Electric and Johns-Manville.

Pfc. Robert Lund Wounded In Italy

Mrs. George H. Greber, 7240 Havelock, received word that her son, Pfc. Robert F. Lund was wounded in action and is now at a base hospital in Italy.

Robert Lund

A letter received from Pfc. Lund, dated September 27, told Mrs. Greber that he was wounded, but did not give the date.

The wounds Pfc. Lund received were from shrapnel, which struck him in the back and the back of the head, the letter states.

"His letter says that he is getting good care, and not to worry," Mrs. Greber said. "He also says that he can stand up now, which makes me think that he possibly was paralyzed from his wounds and is learning to walk again."

Pfc. Lund entered the service August 13, 1943, and trained at Camp Adair, Ore. He has been in the front lines with the American Fifth army in Italy since June, 1944.

He attended Havelock high school, and served an apprenticeship in the Lincoln Star pressroom before entering the army.

Overseas Christmas Packages Require Only One Address

Postmaster O. E. Jerner cautioned mailers of Christmas packages for overseas servicemen not to put the address on the front and back of the package, saying that the address on the front will suffice.

The duplication of address is most objectionable since it causes unnecessary handling of the packages. This is also true for packages sent through the regular mails.

If it is so desired, Jerner said, another address and return address, on separate papers, may be included inside the package, in case of the loss of the original address.

Freedom Of Press Assured Regardless Of Who Is Elected

(By the Associated Press.)

No matter who is elected president in November, he will take up the work of the next four years with an already-announced recognition of a free press as essential to democracy.

This was apparent today in statements from President Roosevelt and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in connection with national newspaper week Oct. 1-8.

The nation's free press "is in the forefront of democracy's battle for survival" and "will help to win the peace," Mr. Roosevelt said in a statement which termed the press "a living symbol of democracy."

In a message to publishers and staffs of newspapers, Dewey said "they (the newspapers) have given America by far the freest, most interesting and most informative press in the world." Citing what he called "tendencies of the government in power," the GOP nominee said he had "every confidence that our free press will continue to resist government domination."

Siegfried Line Cut

shoved back across the river last night—and destroyed the northern approaches to the bridge in their desperation to prevent a British crossing.

From both sides, east and west, they hurled SS troops into attacks against the thin British corridor through Nijmegen. In that battle they risked at least 300 of their fighters and fighter bombers in one of the luftwaffe's biggest days of concentrated close support since the invasion.

Head-on Clash.

British planes met them head-on, destroyed 33, damaged 1, and kept them from getting into strafing range of British ground forces at any time in the fight. A single British plane was lost.

Southwest of Nijmegen the British widened their corridor within four miles of the Dutch communications center of 'S Hertogenbosch which the Germans fortified to hold an escape corridor to the north around the broad Maas estuary for troops hemmed tightly in western Holland.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges doughboys were punching into German defenses again all the way from north of Aachen to the southern tip of Luxembourg.

Historical Society

study. He urged that the legislative council be asked to include the historical society among state organizations.

A. B. Wood was unable to attend because of an accident. C. A. Sorensen read a paper on "Development of Rural Electrification," and he was followed by Abner K. Chestem, chairman of the Nebraska Triple A, on "Conservation of Nebraska's Agricultral Resources."

Mr. Sorensen pointed out that 90,000 farm dwellers in Nebraska now are able to turn on electric current for light where eight years ago they read by kerosene lamps. In 1930 only 5,278 farms were served with electricity, almost entirely by private power companies. This he called a "story of social pioneering, of economic engineering, and of the introduction of new concepts of governmental functions."

Miss Ruth Sheldon, daughter of the late society secretary, is here from Washington, D. C., for the meeting. She is in the home service department of the Washington Gas & Light company.

Discuss Post-War Plans.

Post-war planning and problems was the central topic featured at the joint luncheon in the Cornhusker hotel Saturday noon, of the Nebraska Native Sons and Daughters and the Nebraska Historical society, with Carol White Mortensen, president of the former organization, presiding.

"Rehabilitation of Veterans" was the topic of the first speaker, Lowell S. Devoe, vocational administrator for the Veterans Administration in Lincoln, who told the luncheon guests of the program which is geared through training to fit boys for adjustment to industry, economic and social life in the United States.

Formerly a speech teacher at Northeast high school and now stationed in Lincoln with the WAC recruiting office, Lt. Margaret Servine spoke on the subject "Civilians' Part in the War." Dean John D. Clark, of the University of Nebraska college of business administration, declared in his talk, that post-war planning is centered on an effort to maintain economic stability by thereby maintaining employment and also explained the post-war planning progress made in Nebraska.

Prof. Edward Everett Dale of the University of Oklahoma will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet tonight. President Lawrence will preside.

IRRIGATION

reiterated testimony given at a previous hearing, especially as to the ease of irrigating the land in the Mid-State area and the availability of natural streams which would be converted at slight cost into canals to convey irrigation waters. He stressed the power possibilities and asserted the Mid-State power plants could be built for about half as much as the proposed Tri-County Plum creek power plant.

Three-quarters Prime Power.

FFurther, he said, the Mid-State would produce at least 125,000,000 KWH of hydro power of which at least three-quarters would be prime power.

Johnson challenged previous statements by Meyer that pump irrigation would destroy the water supply in the valley and said that when considering all the conditions involved "including the destruction of land from seepage by locating canals in the flat lands of the valley, we must consider that the most practical and economical method of irrigating the land east of Kearney is entirely by pump irrigation."

The Plum creek resorvoir, where Tri-County propoces to store water for diversion southward, must be built, Johnson said, to economically operate Tri-County and to avoid a large waste of water and power "which would take place if we continue to waste our winter discharge from our power houses' and then have to draw other water for summer irrigation.

Plum Creek Reservoir.

With Plum creek reservoir constructed, Johnson said, its operations would take care of all land irrigible by Tri-County, plus the 150,000,000 acres for which diversion is sought. The land in the valley between Kearney and North Platte would be serviced by water from the Sutherland.

This, Johnson commented, let the land north of the river from Kearney east. Of that land, he said "a careful study of the irrigation of this land shows that the most practical method of irrigating is by pump irrigation. In fact, a very large part o fthe land cannot be practically irrigated by ditch irrigation because of large ditch losses. In wet years the irrigation water from canals on the lowlands will cause seepage and ruin a very large per cent of land raising good crops."

Another power angle stressed by Meyer was that the four Mid-State plants would be close to existing transmission lines which he said would mean that the total power developed in the Platte valley could be carried over these lines at less than the present unit cost since merely additional conductor capacity would be required in most instances.

Tigers, Brownies Again Deadlocked

—EVEN RACE NOW AND TWO GAMES TO GO—

BY JOHN CASHMAN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—(INS)—Fighting spirit and a grim tenaciousness which has been characteristic of their play all season put the incredible St. Louis Browns where they are today—in a first place tie with the Detroit Tigers for leadership in the hottest American league race since 1908.

The Brownies, hungry for their first pennant, faced off against a bitterly struggling New York Yankee club yesterday and ground out two wins, 4 to 1 and 1 to 0.

Meanwhile, the fates were turning in the Brownies' favor in Detroit. Manager Steve O'Neill, after seeing his Tigers pound out a 5 to 2 first-game decision over the Washington Senators, took a desperate gamble on brilliant but overworked Dizzy Trout and lost. The Senators took Trout apart and worked over three more Tiger flingers to drum out a 9 to 2 nightcap triumph.

Knockout Hits Yankees.

The double-loss to the Browns knocked the Yankees clear out of the contention and Jack Kramer made it plain from the first that the Browns meant business. In addition to scattering eight Yankee hits, Kramer rapped out a brace of safeties, one of which—a double in the third inning—started the Browns on the road to victory.

The second game was a deadly struggle in which the Browns scored in the first inning and kept that one-run lead right into the home stretch behind the six-hit pitching of Nelson Potter. Hank Borowy lost a heart-breaking two-hitter.

A three-run rally in the seventh inning gave Detroit its first-game triumph and kept whole the cloak of the Tigers' invincibility. As usual, Dick Wakefield started it with a double off Johnny Niggeling. Then Jimmy Outlaw singled in a run and Winning Pitcher Rufe Gentry whacked in another, Roger Cramer following up with a third on a single.

Senators Maul Trout.

Niggeling still was smarting under the loss when George Case of the Senators started a second-game barrage in the third that lasted five innings and netted nine runs. Case rapped a homer with two aboard in this frame, preceded by a one-run score in the second, and Trout bowed out after four innings, his twenty-eighth victory not accomplished. Mickey Haefner was credited with the win.

The turbulent twin bills were played with one eye on the scoreboard. Trout's collapse and the Browns' do-or-die action afield gave both Detroit and St. Louis 87 games won and 65 lost, with two games to play, one each on Saturday and Sunday.

A's Scalp Indians.

In less important happenings, the Philadelphia Athletics trimmed the Cleveland Indians, 4 to 2, in the first game, all but wiping out the Indians' chances of finishing in the first division, and then went into a 1-1 tie with the Tribe, called after nine innings because of darkness. The wildness of Rookie Bill Bonness gave the A's the opening victory.

Grey Clark's tenth-inning single to score Thornton Lee gave the Chicago White Sox a 4 to 3 night-game victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Reds Pressing Pirates.

In the National league, the Pittsburgh Pirates dropped to within a half game of the Cincinnati Reds for the second-place spot as the Bucs dropped a 3 to 0 decision to the Philadelphia Phillies. Ron Northey led the Philly attack, singling in a run in the first and scoring on Coaker Triplett's single in the sixth.

The Boston Braves clinched sixth place by rapping the Chicago Cubs, 5 to 1. Home runs by Tommy Holmes and Chuck Workman in the fourth did the trick for Nate Andrews.

The New York Giants broke a 2-2 deadlock in the ninth to beat the St. Louis Cards, 3 to 2, and hand Ted Wilks his fourth defeat.

The Brooklyn Dodgers dropped a 10 to 2 decision to the Cincinnati Reds before the smallest Ebbets Field crowd of the year—912. Arnold Carter was credited with the win.

Highs Have Busy Day

—4 LINCOLN TEAMS IN ACTION—

HIGH school footballers of the state capital city region bagged better than an even break during Friday's gridiron proceedings. While Lincoln high was held to a 6-6 deadlock by Sioux City East on the Iowa entry's field and Northeast bowed to an aggressive Boys Town clan from Father Flanagan's home, 18 to 0, College View chalked up its third successive triumph, 12 to 0, at the expense of Geneva high, and the Bluebirds of Cathedral high handcuffed Nebraska School for Deaf, 23 to 8.

The Red and Black Lincolnites were fortunate to squeeze through with their 6-6 tie at Sioux City. The Links did their scoring early, crossing the Red Raiders' goal line during the first quarter, an accomplishment resulting from Gene Kelly's lateral to Halfback Gerlach, who scampered near 65 yards to cross the final lime line standing up.

RAIDERS HAD REAL PUNCH.

The Raiders, who outdowned and outyarded the Links by a decisive margin, finally cashed in on their superiority by knotting the count during the climactic period. A steady march of 75 yards ended with Fullback Burnight hitting pay dirt. Both teams missed the try for the extra point.

The Rockets of Northeast, performing on their home field, the Wesleyan U. gridiron, never were serious factors in their combat with Father Flanagan's proteges, who gave convincing proof that their recent 6-6 tie with Creighton Prep was no flash in the pan.

BOYS TOWN HAD GOODS.

The business at Wesleyan was only a few minutes old when the Boys Towners registered their first touchdown, this the result of a 67-yard march on exactly three plays. Boys Town scored again in the third period and repeated in the final stanza. Fullback Brogan twice crossed the Northeast goal and Right Half Vigil accounted for the additional marker.

Northeast frequently threatened, chiefly the result of Jim Weber's passing skill, but never was able to attain scoring results. One of Weber's aerial tosses to Ryan hit the touchdown mark, but the score was disallowed for the infiction of a penalty.

NO. 3 FOR VIEWMEN.

Geneva gave College View an argument for one quarter in a Friday night fray, staged under the lights at the Lincoln high Oval, but the Viewmen stepped on the gas throttle during the second period and produced a touchdown on a nifty pass from McCluskey to Del Miller.

Coach Priefert's undefeated proteges rang up their second score when Ken Miller snagged a Geneva punt and, on a twisting, squirming dash of some 55 yards, crossed the Geneva goal standing up.

McDonald's effective punting was the chief factor for Geneva in averting a more decisive defeat.

BLUEBIRDS REVENGED.

The six-man Bluebirds of Cathedral high, facing fire in their season's inaugural, had a score to settle with Nebraska Deaf, the team that repulsed the Lincoln lads a year ago. And settle it they definitely did by turning in a decisive victory by a point-margin of 23 to 8.

Cades accounted for two Cathedral touchdowns, while Brewer and Cooke also rang the scoring bell. Spatz took credit for the lone touchdown credited to the visiting team. The Cathedral-Deaf contest in the afternoon was staged at the Lincoln high Oval.

Wings vs. Broncos

Pair Crack Service Teams Tangle Sunday Afternoon On U. of N. Stadium Field.

Following a workout at Nebraska's Memorial stadium, Captain Willis Smith, coach of the Fort Warren Broncos, said Saturday that his men are fit and ready for the game with the LAAF Wings at the stadium Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Riding a two-game winning streak, the soldiers from Cheyenne are favored to add another victory to their string at the expense of the Lincoln warriors.

Possessing a superlative passing-attack pair in Ken Jastrow and Roy Gomillion, the Broncos are equally strong on the ground. Passes from Jastrow to Gomillion scored the touchdowns which defeated the Brooklyn Tigers professional team. A 67-yard dash by Ken Whitney scored the winning touchdown against Colorado university.

Coach Ingalls Content.

Coach Bob Ingalls, Wings mentor, expressed himself today as satisfied with the Wings' showing in recent workouts, and expects his men to give a good account of themselves against the Broncos. Ingalls' hopes for his backs—De Shazo, Cowan, Elston and Mayne—to cope with the Broncos on even terms. Creevy and McCrary, the two other tailbacks are ready to give a lot of strength to the left half spot.

The Wings' strating lineup will be Millham and Grifftih, ends; Downs and White, tackles; Michaud and Garbinski, guards; Blizzard, center; Elston, quarter; De Shazo and Cowan, halves; Mayne, fullback. Millham is a Fordham veteran; Griffith played at South Carolina; Downs performed at Oklahoma; and White at Loyola of California; Garbinski starred at Penn State and Michaud at Providence college; Blizzard starred at Arkansas; Elston played three years at South Carolina; Mayne was a standout at Texas for three years; DeShazo is an ex-VMI star; Cowan played at Indiana.

Broncos' Lineup.

Capt. Smith has announced he will start his strongest lineup against the Wings. Starting ends will be Ken Whitney, Xavier university; and Dick Brecunier, Iowa veteran; the tackles will be Lt. Mitchell Olenski and Lawrence Harriston, Olesnki, former all-Southwestern from Alabama, was a standout in the Colorado game.

Lt. Lou Daukas, ex-Cornell captain, is the bulwark of the line. His line backing is outstanding. The guards will be Jim O'Malley and Mack Goodlet.

Cliff Long, Baker university, will start at quarter. Roy Gomillion, who did his college playing at Wiley college, is the club's leading ground-gainer. He gets the nod at fullback. Jastrow, who learned his footballing at St. Thomas and Harold Millon, Southern university, will be the starting halfbacks.

Golfers Carry On At L C C

Lincoln Country club golfers, competing in the club championship pursuit, tangled today in semi-final round play. The finals are on the slate for Sunday and the championship flight dope sheet continued Saturday to indicate that Lieut. Matt Palacio and Attorney Erv Rucklos will have at it in the climactic match.

In Friday's second round maches in the title division, Capt. Ed Freis of the Lincoln Army Air Field was three under par for the first nine, finishing with an 8 and 6 victory over Reg Woodruff. Palacio disposed of Bill Folsom, 2 up; Dick Russell and Dick Spangler battled on even terms for 18 holes, Russell winning the decision on No. 19, and Rucklos swamped Coe Dalrymple, 7 and 5.

In the only first flight matches played Friday, Gene Thompson set back Walter White, 2 and 1, and Clarence Swanson beat Jim Quinn, 4 and 3.

Illinois' home schedule has a Hoosier flavor this fall. Indiana, Purdue and Notre Dame will be met at Champaign.

BLOCKING BACK.

"DUTCH" ELSTON (above), blocking back for the Lincoln Army Air Field Wings, rocks and socks 'em when he blocks an opponent out of the play. This stocky, 5-11 195-pounder played three years of college football at the University of South Carolina. "Dutch" is team captain for the Wings, who are scheduled to tangle with the Ft. Warren Broncos at the University of Nebraska stadium at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Pep Plasters His Foe

—CHALKY WRIGHT EASY MARK—

By LAWTON CARVER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—(INS) In a couple of years, when the war is over and that predicted sports gold rush is on full tilt, Willie Pep will make more money than any other featherweight that ever pulled on a pair of gloves. He hasn't yet approached his peak, but nevertheless is superb in his boxing artistry, which is highlighted by the mark of true skill—a fine left hand. Ask "Old Man River" Chalky Wright.

Pep became the first veteran of World war II to make a successful defense of a boxing title when he retained the New York commission feather crown in his 15-rounder with the venerable west coast negro last night at the Garden, and this end was accomplished through a combination of Pep's youth—he's only 22—and his darting left.

BARRAGE OF JABS.

In one round, the seventh, which wasn't particularly fast, Pep landed 44 left jabs and hooks in the crinkled, sepia-tinted visage of the old fellow, and, if anything, is an improved fighter over the night in November of 1942 when he lifted Wright's crown.

Since then, Pep has been in and out of the navy, but not entirely inactive and his 15-round triumph on points last night was his seventy-ninth success in 80 starts, the lone defeat via a decision having been plastered on him by Sammy Angott, former lightweight champion, in March of 1943. He has won 16 straight bouts since leaving the navy.

CONSULTING THE RECORD.

Until last night, "Old Folks" Wright had scored 20 victories—17 by knockouts—in 21 starts since he lost his title to the little Hartford, Conn., Italian. That's a fair record, even in these times.

While it is true that at an age that may range anywhere between 35 and 45, Wright doesn't get around as spryly as formerly, he still can drop a man with a punch and will be dangerous as long as he is able to stand. Pep never gave him a chance.

Pep kept Uncle Chalk off balance through most of the rounds with Feints, shifts and stabs that left the former firmly impaled most of the time on the end of a left that never tired.

GLOVES IN HIS FACE.

He had a glove in his face most of the evening. He also was out fought in occasional salvos of cannonading because of Pep's sharpshooting and, with one thing and another, spent most of the evening out in left field catching things.

At 125½ lbs., Pep gave away a negligible four ounces, but he also gave away something else—a free lesson in boxing, which Wright absorbed at various points of his anatomy, mostly from the neck up. The crowd of 15,433 paid $66,740 to watch it and seemed quite delighted, although all that noise might have come from 3,000 cheer-leaders from Pep's native Hartford. Nobody cheered "Old Uncle Mose," largely because he gave them very little to cheer about.

Savage Battle In Auto City Arena

DETROIT, Sept. 30 — (INS) — Lamotta beat George Kochan in a savage 10-round bout at the Olympia last night, but he had to work for the decision.

Lamotta never was in a fiercer battle and while the Bronx middle-weight took down the unanimous decision of Referee Sam Hennessey and the two judges, it was the game Kochan who got the biggest hand from the crowd when the gladiators left the ring last night. A crowd of 6,791 paid $15,940.64 to see the card.

Washington, Southern California, California and U. C. L. A. are the four teams left in the Pacific conference. The former is a choice of the experts to win the title.

Navy Gets Top Rank

Midshipmen of Annapolis Rated Now As the Nation's No. 1 Team In Football.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—(AP)—Four intersectional games, featuring highly touted Navy, Army, Notre Dame and Duke, top today's college football program.

Navy, regarded as Notre Dame's successor as mythical national champions, opens its season under a new coach, Commander Oscar E. Hagberg, at Annapolis against North Carolina Pre-Flight. The Army plays North Carolina at West Point.

Notre Dame, last year's No. 1 eleven in the Associated Press national poll, likewise takes the lid off its 1944 season under a new coach, Ed McKeever, against Pitt's T-formation Panthers at Pittsburgh. Duke, Southern conference champion, tangles with Pennsylvania at Franklin Field in Philadelphia.

Mid-west Features.

The Indiana-Michigan, Illinois-Great Lakes, Missouri-Ohio State, Wisconsin-Northwestern, Minnesota-Nebraska and Olathe Navy-Iowa Seahawks headline an attractive mid-western program, while the College of Pacific-U. S. C. and Second Air Force-Colorado top the Pacific Coast and Rocky mountain area card.

Temple opened its season last night by trouncing Swarthmore, 34 to 12, at Philadelphia. In other Friday night tilts, Wake Forest barely squeezed by Georgia, 14-7; Auburn walloped Howard, 32-0; the Oklahoma Aggies dumped Arkansas, 19-0, and favored Kansas had to come from behind to gain a 14-15 tie with Denver.

Dempsey In London; Next for Buzz Bombs

LONDON, Sept. 30 — (AP) — Comdr. Jack Dempsey, back in London for the first time in 19 years, said today he had not heard any buzz-bombs yet and "I don't want to."

"I came over to meet the boys we trained at Manhattan Beach and see how they are doing," Dempsey said. "We've been training them to be fighters; teaching them all the tricks including how to use knives. After the war, we'll have plenty of good boxers, but right now we aren't teaching them how to box."

Angels Three Down To Coast Loop Seals

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30—(INS)—The San Francisco Seals held a 3-0 lead in the Governor's cup series today as they bumped Los Angeles' impotent Angels, 5-1, last night at Seals stadium.

A crowd of 5,871 fans braved the chill fog and winds to see the southerners score their first run in 27 innings of play. Ray Harrell, who goes to the Giants next spring, handcuffed the Angels with a six-hit performance.

Santa Clara, long a power in Pacific coast football, may not return to the gridiron after the war.

Cecil Isbell and four of his assistants are former football stars at the school they coach, Purdue.

George Zorich, a guard, is one of the few rookies with the Chicago Bears this year.
